TRAFFIC KILLS ONE, INJURES 4 IN COUNTY

Electrical Worker Meets Death When Hit By Car as He Walks Along Road.

STATE TOLL REACHES 10

Thomas Harbaugh, 38, Struck Near Bellville on Way to Home of Sister.

A Mansfield electrical worker was fatally injured and four other persons were hurt in four weekend traffic mishaps in Richland county, while at least nine persons received injuries in a series of accidents in Crawford and Huron counties.

Richland County's 1940 Traffic Toll

11

This date last year—14

The Ohio traffic toll was 10. Five other violent deaths were reported from other causes.

Struck by an automobile as he walked along route 13, one mile north of Bellville shortly before 1 a. m. Sunday, Thomas E. Harbaugh, 38 of 151 Hammond avenue, died at 9 a. m. yesterday in General hospital. He suffered a skull fracture and a broken leg.

Mr. Harbaugh, who was affiliated with his father, Frank B. Harbaugh, in the electrical business, was the county's 11th traffic fatality of the year. Fourteen persons had been killed at the same time last year.

Harbaugh was hit by a car driven by Richard Huffman, 22, of 130 East First street, who was coming home from the Westinghouse picnic at Buckeye lake. Mr. Harbaugh was walking from Bellville to the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Schrack, north of the village, to spend the night.

Huffman told Sheriff E. P. Long he was passing another car and failed to see Mr. Harbaugh until it was too late to avoid hitting him. The sheriff said Mr. Harbaugh apparently was walking on the left side of the highway, facing traffic, in accordance with the state law. Huffman was exonerated by authorities.

Born in Mansfield in June, 1902, Mr. Harbaugh had lived here all his life. He was a member of the First Lutheran church.

The body was taken to the Wappner Funeral home where services will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday by Rev. O. S. Goerner, assistant pastor of the First Lutheran church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Harbaugh.

HURT IN DIVE

Swimmer Suffers 4 Fractures of Vertebrae Today.

Richland county recorded its second swimming accident of the year early this morning when Lloyd Angus, 30, R. D. 2, Mansfield, suffered a fractured vertebra in a 12-foot dive into a shallow creek near his home.

He is confined to General hospital with four fractures of the vertebra. His condition was reported as "fair" by the attending physician.

Angus was injured about 2 a. m. today when he dived from a bridge into a shallow creek, it was reported. He was taken to the hospital by Robert Pittenger.

The county's first swimming victim of the year was Clayton C. Griffith, 36, Washington township, who was drowned while swimming in a pond near his home Saturday afternoon.

Four Find War Haven In Galion

English Mother, Children Cross Ocean Aboard British Freighter.

By CATHERINE RORICK

GALION — Zig-zagging across the Atlantic ocean aboard the Western Prince, an 11,000-ton cargo ship not ordinarily used for passengers and a boat that would have been a target for German torpedoes or planes, an English mother and her two children and her nephew arrived in Galion early Sunday morning.

Having evacuated their home in Maidenhead, Berkshire, England because of the war, Mrs. Richard Berting, her two children, Angela, 12, and James, 9, and Mrs. Berting's nephew, Bryan, 12, have arrived to make their home with Mrs. Berting's brother-in-law, G. A. Berting and family, West Church street.

They are the first English people to arrive in Galion to seek refuge from the dangers of war.

Because of the secrecy of sailing, and for fear plans will be learned by the enemy, only short notice is given to passengers who have booked passage to the United States. For this reason, those wishing to sail must be ready to leave at a moment's notice, and while they are allowed to bring along as much luggage as possible, it is often not as much as would ordinarily be brought on such a voyage. They are not even told the date of sailing, or the name of the ship.

Parts of the Western Prince had been badly riddled with machine gun bullets, the family noticed, indicating that the boat had been on some hazardous trips before it brought the 82 passengers over on this trip.

Mrs. Berting said most of the passengers were English mothers and their children, with exception of four foreigners about whom she knew nothing.

On the second day out at sea, two ships were sighted on the horizon, and immediately the six-inch guns were turned in that direction, but the two ships went on their ways. The Western Prince was equipped with mine sweepers, two cannon, and anti-aircraft guns. It made the trip over without convoy, adding to the risk, Mrs. Berting said it made the trip in 10

THROWS LAMP, FIRE KILLS 7

Colored Columbus Woman to Face Murder Charge In Residence Blaze.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — A Negro woman was blamed by Detective Sgt. C. C. Cole today of starting a residence fire fatal to seven persons by hurling an oil lamp to the floor during an argument.

The woman, Carrie Dorsey, 31, and two Negro men, Walter Moore, 46, and James Peterson, 52, were held pending completion of an investigation of the predawn blaze. Cole said she probably would be charged with first degree murder.

Trapped on the second floor of a brick, double house in the downtown area, a father and mother and their four children perished. The seventh victim was a neighbor who died in an attempt to carry one of the children to safety. All were Negroes.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Thompson, and their children, Mary, 7, Elizabeth, 6, Martha, 4, and Ruth, 2, and Mrs. Pinkie Brown, 65.

Cole said that the argument resulted from the arrest of Carrie Dorsey's mother, Anna, for drunkenness at the house five hours before the fire.

Moore was cut leaping from a second story window. Thompson also leaped, but died a short time later.

PILOTS KILLED

Two Crash to Their Death In Flaming Plane.

CONWAY, Pa.—(AP)—Two young pilots crashed to death in a light cabin plane that burst into flames as it ploughed into a garden yesterday.

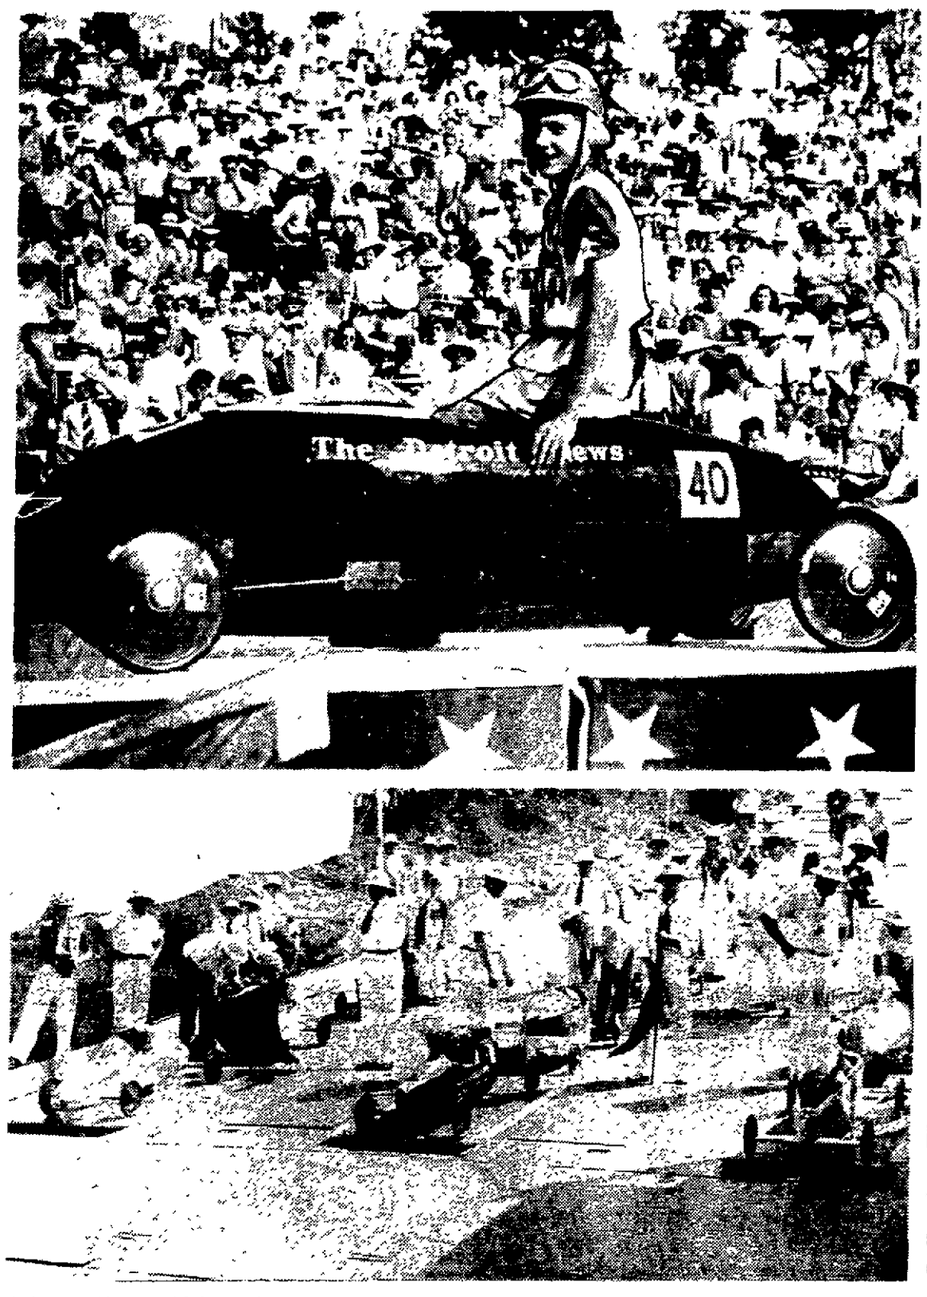
Derby Winner, Mansfield Car At Start



A happy 12-year-old boy with a pug nose and plenty of teeth in his smile is bound for a free college education today, his reward for winning the seventh annual All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron yesterday. He is Tommy Fisher of Detroit shown in the top photograph, taken at Derby Downs after he clipped down the 1,000-foot racing ribbon in 26.68 seconds to win the title. In the lower picture Mansfield's own champion, Jack Thompson, center, is shown as his sleek little black coaster rolled from the starting ramp with the Rochester, N. Y., and Washington, Pa., champions, Richard Naser, the Washington entry (right) won the heat in 26.99 seconds, but was defeated in the third round of competition. James Babcock was the Rochester entry.

Luck Charm Fails as Jack Loses By Inches

Mansfield Entry Eliminated in Initial Heat of Soap Box Derby Finals at Akron as 50,000 Look on.

By ROBERT E. ROGERS

AKRON—Jack Thompson, Mansfield's Soap Box Derby champion, had his lucky charm tucked securely in his pocket yesterday but it failed to work. He was eliminated from the All-American finals here at Derby Downs in the first round, before a crowd of 50,000.

The Mansfield champion was nosed out by Richard Naser, the Washington, Pa., champion, by a scant six inches in the 39th heat. Naser went through the second round, winning easily, but dropped his third race to the Kansas City champion. Naser's time was 26.99 seconds.

Jack did crash the movies though, running a special heat down the 1,000-foot racing ribbon for the news reel cameramen against James Babcock, the Rochester, N. Y., champion, who trailed third in the heat won by young Naser.

His little gravity-powered coaster followed the news reel camera car down the track to finish several lengths ahead of Babcock. The race was run following the first round of competition in which champions from 130 cities from United States, Panama Canal zone and Canada participated.

Twelve-year-old Thomas D. Fisher of Detroit, Mich., was crowned the 1940 All-American champion of the "greatest amateur racing event in the world," when he shot across the finish line in 26.68 seconds.

He finished ahead of Robert Londeree jr., Charlestown, W. Va., and George Smith of Akron, who finished third and fourth respectively.

Fourth place went to Gordon Keister, the Pontiac, Mich., champion.

RITES TUESDAY

Drowning Victim to Be Buried In Lantz Cemetery.

Funeral services for Clayton C. Griffith, 36, of Washington township, who drowned Saturday near his home in the Anderson pool, six miles south of Mansfield, will be held at 3 p. m. Tuesday at the Wappner funeral home in charge of the Christian Apostolic church. Burial will be in the Lantz cemetery, east of Mansfield.

Griffith drowned at 1 p. m. Saturday while swimming with his son, Eddie, 8, and Wilbert W. Goff, a brother-in-law, in a pool on the Rolla Anderson farm. Efforts to resuscitate him proved futile. The body will remain at the home until Tuesday morning.

REGISTRATION YEARLY URGED

Industrial Manpower Index Through Age 44 Favored as Draft Supplement.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Annual registration of all men from 21 through 44, to provide an index of the industrial as well as military manpower of the nation, was proposed today by Senator Barkley (D-Ky) to supplement conscription.

"We ought to have information of the number of men who are available for noncombatant activities, as well as those who might be called for military service," the Democratic floor leader told reporters.

Incorporation of Barkley's suggestion into the pending Burke-Wadsworth bill would entail some changes in the contemplated conscription plan, it was pointed out by Senator Sheppard (D-Tex)., floor manager of the measure.

The bill calls for a single registration to compile the list of men eligible for active training, although the program would remain

FORGETS NAME

17-Year-Old Girl Found in Columbus Unconscious.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Authorities today sought to establish the identity of a pretty blond 17-year-old girl found unconscious and apparently drugged in a west-side field. Although she regained consciousness later, she could not remember her name.

She did tell police, however, her age and that she was in the third grade of a high school "somewhere in Kentucky." A small vial found beside her, containing a fluid and a [illegible] powder, was being analyzed.

EIGHT KILLED BY HURRICANE ALONG COAST

Worst Tropical Storm In Recent Years Strikes Southern States.

PROPERTY WRECKED

Heavy Rains Continue But Force of Wind Spent Driving Inland.

(By Associated Press)

ATLANTA — Danger from the worst tropical hurricane to strike the south Atlantic coast in recent years passed today, after bringing death to at least eight persons, wrecking property, flooding highways and crippling communications.

The force of the storm spent itself inland, but heavy rains continued over Georgia and South Carolina.

Historic Charleston remained cut off from all communications after amateur radio operators were forced to abandon a station when water flooded a powerhouse.

Army officials at Forst McPherson, Ga., said their radio operators had received no reports of severe casualties in Charleston.

Fort Moultrie gave refuge to some 600 civilians from Sullivan's island, near Charleston, and most of the residents at other vacation resorts along the Carolina and Georgia coasts moved to safety ahead of the wind. Coast guardsmen and state highway patrols raced to warn all persons in exposed areas before the hurricane struck.

No word of casualties came from either Fort Screven, near Savannah, or Beaufort, S. C., where the storm and accompanying high tide struck in force. Military sources received no information of damage at the Big Parris island marine base and announced they assumed personnel had escaped unharmed.

Six of the deaths were reported by the amateur radio operators before they were forced off the air. They said the six were drowned at nearby Folly beach when their automobile plunged from a flooded highway. A colored woman was killed by broken glass at Savannah and a man died of a heart attack when a tree was blown down at his home.

A considerable section of Charleston was under water four to six feet deep. A number of persons suffered minor injuries from flying debris.

Winds reached a velocity of 68 miles an hour and some gusts went well over 70 at Savannah.

Fire, believed to have been caused by a falling power line, broke out at the huge naval stores terminal, but was brought under control.

UP NEAR 90

Mercury Climbs, Little Change In Temperature Forecast.

Little relief from the heat was in sight today for Mansfielders, although the weatherman today predicted that occasional showers were in the offing Tuesday.

The mercury which dropped to 68 last night, two degrees under Saturday's low, shot back up again this morning and by noon had equalled yesterday's high of 88.

The forecast of fair tonight, and clouds with occasional showers Tuesday but not much change in temperature indicated that there would not be any decided break in the heat wave until Wednesday at least.

The average temperature during the past 48 hours was 76.2 degrees, or five degrees above normal.

British Deny Much Damage Done At Gibraltar.

LONDON (AP) The war office said today that "reports appearing in some foreign newspapers exaggerate the effect of recent air raids on Gibraltar."

"The truth is," said its communique, "that the damage has been negligible and the casualties have been slight. Gibraltar is prepared for any eventualities and has ample resources of all kinds to meet them."

German Planes Resume Attack In Great Waves

Invading Aircraft Placed at 400 For Second Straight Day; British Say 20 Nazi Ships Brought Down In Early Clashes With Foe

BULLETIN

LONDON—(INS)—A sensational report that Spain is preparing to enter the war at any moment was published today by the London News Chronicle, which attributed its information to the Moscow radio. Authoritative British circles said there was no official confirmation of the reports that Spain was on the verge of joining the Axis in open war.

(By United Press)

LONDON — Swarms of German planes attacked the British south and southeast coasts today in what London newspapers reported as "one of the biggest air battles ever fought."

Blow-by-blow reports of air battle after air battle along the British coast indicated the fighting was on a scale comparable with that yesterday when some 400 German planes were employed.

It was evident that the Germans were employing several hundred planes but there was no immediate official estimate of the exact number.

British fighter planes were engaged almost continuously. By 4 p. m. unofficial compilations of German losses placed the figure at about 20.

At midafternoon anti-aircraft fire drove off eight dive-bombers which tried to attack a southeast coast point but a little later 23 more dive-bombers appeared nearby, dropped their bombs and were chased out to sea by British fighters.

Unofficial and incomplete reports placed German plane losses at between 14 and 16 craft up to 3 p. m. This lifted total German plane losses since June 18 to more than 400, according to British count, but the combats still were going on.

The London Evening News on its front page declared that "one of the biggest air battles ever fought is taking place this afternoon off the southeast and south coasts."

The battles appeared to be a follow-up to the terrific raids carried out by the Germans against Britain yesterday and Thursday. Wave after wave of bombers were coming over. They were protected by fighter and destroyer planes.

British fighter craft were engaged almost continuously against the raiders. British anti-aircraft fire was reported to have been particularly severe.

The large scale assaults followed a night in which German planes ranged over Britain and appeared for the first time over northern Ireland and the north Ireland coast in the region of Britain's "back-door" for supplies, the important west coast ports. By 3 p. m., British time, there were no official reports that the RAF was making any retaliatory raids into Germany.

The main battles today were on a 250-mile front beginning

REJECTED: Food Relief For Europe Can't Pass Blockade

(By United Press)

LONDON—Great Britain will reject any proposal that she lift her blockade of Europe so that American or other neutral relief organizations can send food to the citizens of nations conquered by Germany, a British spokesman said today.

The government so far has not received concrete proposals regarding food shipments to Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxemburg, France and Norway, but if they are made Britain will reply that she cannot permit any exceptions to the blockade even if assurances are given that the supplies will be distributed exclusively to the populations of the invaded countries.

Representatives of United States relief organizations and the International Red Cross were said to have discussed the situation with British authorities, it was learned, because of spreading reports that certain areas of the continent are facing famine during the coming winter.

(Former President Herbert Hoover, head of the European food distribution commission, said in West Yellowstone, Mont., Saturday night that his organization was negotiating with Britain and

Ashamed of Unattractive Surroundings

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX.

Ever since I was 18 years of age I've been the support of our family and was always too busy to have any fun. I'm 30 years old now and have met a very nice young man who comes from lovely people and a beautiful home which is always clean and orderly. My mother is a very poor housekeeper; while she is a good woman, she's always complaining about this and that. Our house is full of clutter.

I have been to his house for supper, and now I want to return the courtesy by inviting him to ours. Up to now I have met him downtown, or at the door, so that he has never had to step in very far. I'm so afraid if I invite him and he comes in and sees our home he'll never want to come back.

I'm employed in an office all day and haven't much time to get the place in order. Now that my younger brothers and sisters are on their own, I do so want to take this chance of happiness that has come to me at last. Please tell me what to do.

BACHELOR GIRL.

Naturally you've got to invite your friend to the house. But I know how hard it would be to ask someone in to such an unattractive place as you describe. Why don't you try to make your mother understand your position and get her on your side. Then get rid of the useless stuff which you call "clutter." If you rent, ask your landlord if he won't do a little painting and papering. If he refuses there are paint-cleaners on the market which work miracles. Perhaps your brothers and sisters would be glad to lend a hand. But, above all, don't ask the boy friend until the house is presentable.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Several years ago I married a girl and when I discovered what kind of a woman she was I had to leave her.

A year later I met the only girl I will ever love. She is everything a man could want. When I asked her to marry me when I obtained a divorce, she said she would wait. However my wife refuses to grant the divorce, and it has been three years. My wife threatens to ruin this girl's name if I marry her.

The young lady and I are very much in love with one another. Should I go ahead and get a divorce in spite of what my wife might do?

E. V. K.

If your wife has been guilty of misconduct, which is grounds for divorce, such as you imply, and still refuses to get one, why don't you apply for the divorce yourself? It's more chivalrous to allow a woman to instigate these proceedings, but if there are grounds, and she refuses, pass up the chivalry.

Of course, if your wife were to put such a threat into execution, as bringing unfounded charges against the girl, we have laws controlling libel.

Your letter, too long to print, gives me only one side of this case.

High Style Fashions, Fancy Work

MARIAN MARTIN

Of course you need a fresh, crisp "cotton" to finish out the warm weather and to keep you good company at home this winter. This Marian Martin Pattern 9414, is just the thing—and quick-as-a-flash to make too. It "backs up" to fashion with a saucy neck-to-hem back buttoning that's convenient for flatspread ironing. The waist-seam rises in two front peaks that hold the soft, bloused bodice lines high leaving your waist and hips slim. Most becoming of all is the youthful yoke (that may be in contrast), with rounded sleevebands to match.

Pattern 9414 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 12 14 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 3¾ yards 35 inch fabric and 2⅞ yards ric-rac.

Send fifteen cents in coins for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address, and style number.

Send your order to The Mansfield News-Journal, Pattern department, 232 W. 18th St., New York, N. Y.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

I found Lillian standing by a hall window overlooking the orchard when I came upstairs from the library. She turned at my steps, and putting her hand smartly up to an imaginary cap brim, executed a creditable salute.

"Noel and Mary and our royal guests have been notified of the siege preparations, and are ready to obey orders for any activities from standing on their heads to manning machine guns," she said with a grin, "but I told them all they had to do was to 'stay put' and pack up their belongings. As all four of them are virtually living in suitcases anyway, that will be easy to do."

"Mary has some things stored away here," I said, and Lillian's rejoinder was swift.

"Yes, but she said all the things she really prized—keepsakes and her few jewels—were in a couple of strong boxes in her room, and they'd bring them down with them when they come."

"That's all right then," I said. "Katie's at work getting the library and my study ready for cots—we've already moved the library table and big chairs over to the living room, and—"

She put her arms akimbo, fish wife fashion, and faced me.

Lillian Truculent.

"Now, what's next on the program? Katrina? If you want me to, I'll take her, for as I told you before, I'll have no part of Ede at all, at all. And—I'd just as soon you tackled your mother-in-law, although—if you want me to."

Her expression was so ludicrously dolorous that I laughed outright.

"I'll see to both Mother Graham and Ede," I told her. "As to Katherine, suppose we both go in to see her."

At the Nursery.

"Granted." I admitted, and we knocked on the nursery door. The sound of running feet came from the other side of it, and with a wisdom born of experience we braced ourselves just in time to receive the impact of Junior and Roderick as they flung open the door and came dashing through it.

Oh-h!" Junior exclaimed, a bit abashed. "I though you were Dad."

"You should be more careful when you open a door," I cautioned mechanically. "Where is Aunt Katherine?"

"In the other room with Faith," they said, and on the word, Katherine opened the door of the bedroom she shares with her charge and came toward us.

"Will you please go into the nursery and play with Faith for a few minutes?" Katherine asked them even before she greeted us. "She's in her play pen, and remember to be very gentle with her."

"We'll remember!" they chorused as they hurried through the door, and we knew it was one promise that would be rigidly kept, for both of them adore our baby princess.

"Am I right in thinking you wish to be alone with me?" she burlesqued as she set chairs for us.

Never Righter.

"You were never righter," Lillian said. "But Madge has all the dope. She'll give you the low down on the program, which, incidentally, is a whopper, even for us, and we're used to complicated performances."

"If it phases you two, it must be some program," she commented. "Tell me about it!"

Quickly I outlined my father's plans, and the way we were carrying them out.

"Sounds good to me," she commented. "I'll get the children's pet toys and their best clothing together right away. You have all the keepsakes you want to preserve, haven't you, Madge?"

"Yes, I have," I answered. Then added hesitatingly: "Do you think Mother Graham could take care of the three children for the rest of the afternoon."

Recipe For Old Favorite

If you are tired of cooking vegetables by themselves, combine two or more, as in this squash and tomato dish.

Today's Menu.

Macaroni and Cheese
Squash and Tomatoes
Cabbage and Apple Salad
Green Apple Pie
Coffee

* * *

Macaroni and Cheese

Macaroni
1 cup American cheese
Salt
1 tbsp. flour
1 tbsp. butter
Pepper or paprika
1 cup or more milk

For persons to be served cook enough macaroni in boiling, salted water, drain and blanch with cold water. Melt butter in saucepan, add flour and mix smooth, add milk gradually, stirring constantly until thick and smooth, add finely cut cheese (you need not use so much cheese if you do not care to), season with ½ teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon paprika or ¼ teaspoon pepper, pour over cooked macaroni in buttered baking dish, top with crumbs or corn flakes, and bake until brown, about 15 minutes.

* * *

Squash and Tomatoes.

Use either crooked neck summer squash or Italian squash. Wash, cut in slices about ½ inch thick. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, dip into beaten egg and coat well with breadcrumbs. Spread out on a platter to dry.

Slice firm tomatoes in half-inch slices or cut in halves. Coat cut sides with flour and season well. Pantry slices of bacon, allowing two to each serving. Remove to a hot platter. Brown squash slices slowly in bacon fat, allowing squash to cook through.

Panfry tomatoes in a separate pan. In serving, top a squash slice with one of tomato and garnish all with bacon.

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—"The Great McGinty." Written and directed by Preston Sturges. Principals: Brian Donlevy, Muriel Angelus, Akim Tamiroff, Allyn Joslyn, William Demarest, Louis Jean Heydt, Steffi Duna.

* * *

Fresh in treatment and timely in theme, "The Great McGinty" tells the story of a city bum who got in with a crooked political machine and rose, by logical if unconventional processes, to be governor of a state.

Dan McGinty (Donlevy) came from a breadline to earn a few bucks voting, at $2 per vote. He voted so industriously that the Boss (Tamiroff) saw a future for him. He was as tough as the Boss, and took no back talk.

Pretty soon Dan was a city slicker, and ripe for the mayoralty—on the reform ticket. To win women's votes, they figured, he had to have a wife, and there was a nice girl (Angelus) who didn't mind marrying him on a platonic basis. That was Dan's first mistake. He fell for the dame and vice versa, and then when he won the governorship she talked him into trying to be honest. It was fatal.

That's how you get the story as Big Dan, now a banker in a tropic joint, tells it to a torrid rhumba cutie (Duna) and a suicide-bent youngster (Heydt) who had been dishonest for "one crazy minute" just as Dan for one crazy minute had been honest.

There are no big names in the cast, but there's more good acting than in a raft of ones. The Angelus girl is strikingly good, Donlevy is a riot, Tamiroff and Demarest as the politicos are perfect. But the real star is Sturges, who wrote the story and directed the picture (his first) to bring out every laugh, every satirical jibe and every story value.

* * *

"Queen of Destiny." Anna Neagle, Anton Walbrook, C. Aubrey Smith. Directed by Herbert Wilcox.

* * *

As in "Victoria the Great," Miss Neagle again triumphs in a characterization of the queen who gave her name to a golden era of British Empire progress.

Not a "plotted" movie, but rather an episodic and authentic account of outstanding events in Victoria's reign, the film is impressive for its pageantry and performances. The young queen's romance with Albert (Walbrook), his wise counsel through their married life until his death, make the more interesting portions.

Done in color, in England, with the royal castles at the film's disposal, it is an interesting contribution to movie biography.

* * *

* * *

Based on a century-old play, "The Fallen Saved," and played straight this is a novelty which doesn't quite come off. The audience is invited to hiss the villain and cheer the virtuous, just as in various stage presentations involving the lush over-acting and scenery-chewing of that period.

What the screen lacks, and the theater provides, is intimacy and beer and pretzels during the show. It's pretty funny at times, but misses badly at others.

Eggplant Savory.

One eggplant, ¼ cup French dressing, 2 cups tomatoes, ¼ cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped onions, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, ½ cup crumbs (bread or cracker), 2 tablespoons butter melted, ¼ cup grated cheese.

Peel eggplant and cut in inch slices, then slices. Soak one hour in French dressing. Cut into cubes and mix with the tomatoes and seasonings. Pour into a buttered baking dish and cover with other ingredients blended. Cover and bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Uncover and bake 10 minutes to brown.

AMERICANS' BEVERAGE

A drink of refreshing carbonated beverage in mid-afternoon is an American habit growing to be as widespread and distinctive as the Englishman's tea.

USE OF "THE DUCK"

ON MANY a No Trump hand, the declarer has no way to make his contract except by the play universally known among veterans as "the duck." This consists of letting the defenders take an early trick or tricks in a particular suit so that the declarer may use the later high cards of the suit as entries to bring in the remainders of it. Frequently the opponents would end the run of the suit if this play were not employed.

Let us take the following examples, the numbered hands in each case being the dummy and the opening lead being the club 4, together with the presumption that the defenders repeat that suit when in the lead:

1. ♠ 8 4 2 ♥ A K Q 3 2 ♦ K 7 3 ♣ 7 5
2. ♠ 8 4 2 ♥ A K Q 3 2 ♦ 8 7 3 ♣ 7 5
3. ♠ 8 4 2 ♥ A K 8 3 2 ♦ 8 7 3 ♣ 7 5
4. ♠ 8 4 2 ♥ A K 8 3 2 ♦ K 7 3 ♣ 7 5

South's Hand

♠ A J 6 ♥ 9 5 4 ♦ A 9 6 5 ♣ A K Q

With No. 1 as the dummy, the declarer can count nine immediate tricks so can run them at once, hoping for two extra tricks if the hearts are split no worse than three with one opponent and two with the other.

With No. 2 as the dummy, the declarer positively must set up one small heart to total nine tricks. His contract is beaten if he finds one defender with as many as four hearts. But the contract may be made iron-clad against a 4-1 division of hearts by letting the defenders take the first heart trick. With that distribution, if he himself takes the first two heart tricks and one defender fails to follow suit on the second, his contract will be doomed.

With No. 3 as dummy, contract can be made only with a favorable 3-2 split. But even that will beat his contract if he takes the first two tricks and loses the third. He must give the opponents one of the first two tricks to win.

With No. 4 an early duck is prescribed, letting the defenders have one of the first two tricks in hearts. Otherwise four hearts in one hand can defeat the contract if diamonds are returned.

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

If West bids diamonds and spades, then leads the diamond 4, East playing the 8, how should South try for 3-No Trumps?

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, Aug. 13.

While there will be much high-pressure activity on this day, judging by certain adverse aspects, there is little promise of any great measure of constructive accomplishment. The energies will be under high stimuli with attack audacious and aggressive; from many quarters may come frustration, opposition and hostility. This not only openly but from strange and sinister sources. Possibly discretion, restraint and some manifestation of compromise may offset treachery and snares. Placate elders and influential personages. "Go ahead and saw wood" is homely advice.

Those whose birthday it is may have a strenuous but tricky year ahead, with opposition and impediment arising from many subtle as well as open sources, with the purpose of defeating some really important and constructive project. The situation is not entirely unpromising if vigilance, sagacity, patience and finesse rather than tempest and fury be brought to bear on opposing factors. Elders and strangers may best respond to "handling with kid gloves."

A child born on this day should be energetic, forceful, aggressive, even belligerent. But early discipline in this respect may assist to a life of definite accomplishment and purpose.

Children Enjoy All Fairy Tales

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

For the mother of the infant in arms it is not too early now to map out a program designed to help this child get along well at school by and by. Here are some things you will aim to do.

Cultivate good health habits in your child, holding him strictly to essential routines. Train him early in self-care, self-reliance and responsibility. Don't do for him what he can do for himself. As soon as he begins to toddle, teach him without doubt the meaning of NO (which he should rarely hear) using the hand at the proper place when necessary—for safety, regard for the rights of others and respect for constituted authority.

Make your child feel he is loved, wanted and worthy. Encourage him to play freely with many other children his age, settling his own quarrels, fighting his own battles. Be generous with affection and deserved approval but miserly, though consistent, with punishment.

Answers all his questions kindly and listen patiently and attentively to what he has to say. Never laugh or grow angry at his mistakes. Treat him as a sacred personality, trying always to put yourself through your imagination in his place, in order to see a little as he sees, understand a little as he understands and feel a little as he feels. Read daily to this child from his second year onward. Keep on reading after he enters school. Provide him with ample simple toys and tools and encourage his creations with words and things.

Be Imaginative.

Don't hamper his imagination; encourage it by having some yourself. Go with him into his land of make-believe. Learn to see his fairies, talk with them and walk with them. If he plays with many other children and does many things with his hands he will not have any trouble over being mixed up over what is real and what is imagined—he won't if you exercise enough imagination yourself. Don't rob him of fairytales, so long as they are not fearful.

Build in your little child a hopeful, happy attitude toward going to school. Being so sensible and sympathetic yourself, you would not, of course, at moments of annoyance tell him that when he goes to school he will have to mind. Picture the teacher to him as a warm friend, not a fiery ogre.

Play School.

Guard him against unwholesome suggestions from other children, if you can, about the teacher or bullies. When, before he enters school, he and his playmates want to "play school," encourage them.

But please do not burden him with formal lessons as in readings or numbers. He will have this formal teaching all too soon. Let his learning be attractive to him and in the nature of play.

If you would like to receive a selected list of books from which to read to the baby and young child, write me at 235 East 45th Street, N. Y., enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it. In like manner you also may receive a chart of desirable hours of sleep at the various ages and a list of my pamphlets on the pre-school child.

WHITE GLOVES

White gloves that have always been right for summer . . . are smarter than ever this year. The new black and brown sheer frocks that will take on importance for side-walk cafe and roof-garden dining, need the bright accent of spotless white doeskin (kept that way in soap-suds) in an eight or twelve button length.

CHAPTER XV

"How we going, Smarty-pie?" Al greeted Marilyn. "Did you burst out with an idea that should be written in letters of fire across the sky? Did you coin a phrase that will ring down the corridors of industrial history? You look kind of peaked. Don't tell me they put the pressure on you the first day."

Marilyn said, rebelliously, "I haven't done a thing all day except sit at my desk and practice doing another girl's job."

"Ah, the nerve test." Al pulled Marilyn's arm through his, all but skipped up the street. "Your boss is seeing whether or not you have good steady nerves. He wants to see if you can take it."

"She isn't a he, she's a she."

"Well, I'll be darned. And you accuse me of scrambling my language. Oh well, I'm just a problem child in the School of English. But listen, Duchess, I have news for you. Your Sister Clara is wearing a brand-fresh shiny diamond bracelet."

"Al, no—a diamond bracelet. Where could Clara get—"

"Wait a minute. Don't run out from under your harness. It's not a nice fat juicy diamond bracelet. Just a trinket. Compliments of that beau gestee of the niteries, Mr. Herman Hess. I did a bit of investigating. Gossip has it that Hermie always starts that way, a trinket pace. Sort of whets the feminine appetite for baubles. It takes him quite a while to work himself into a real crown-jewel gallop."

* * *

Despite Marilyn's pleading, Al remained firm. No trailing Clara for two or three days, long enough to catch her off guard.

"But, Al," Marilyn persisted, "I can't sit by and hope to get Clara clear with wishful thinking. Anything could happen in two or three days."

"Right. And if it's going to happen neither you nor I nor all the king's horses can stop it, Duchess. I have a hunch and it's a daisy. Blondie isn't such a lame-brain when it comes to Blondie's own welfare. She's pretty darn well able to look out for herself. Too darned mean to do anything else. She's strictly on the taking end, not on the giving. Wouldn't it be a howl if she took Hermie for a row of emeralds, or a platinum-plated limousine?"

"I can't see anything funny in what you say. It's—shameful. Clara has only known this man, this Herman Hess, only a few days. Accepting gifts from him—jewelry—"

"Scuse. I've such a sensitive funny bone I see laughs in every racket Big Town spawns. If you didn't cultivate laughs in show business you'd get melancholy and they'd brush out the padded cell for you. Take it easy on the Blondie business. Little One Save your worries for the new job. Make it the most important thing in your life right now. Be a trooper. You know—come what come may, the job must go on."

* * *

Marilyn's second morning in the Clarco offices. The hands of the clock said ten minutes until 9. Already half the occupants of the promotion department were at their desks. Marilyn settled herself at her typewriter. She had a queer tight feeling in her throat. Suppose she should sit there all day, fumbling with the keys, waiting, waiting.

Fifteen minutes later, it seemed 15 centuries—an office boy stopped at her desk, deposited thereon a white slip of paper. "Memo for Miss Marsh." She could have embraced him.

The memo was identical with the one Kathaleen Garvan had sent her. Slogans for Clarco. Six six-word sentences extolling the virtues of Cladco. A dozen or more of the sheets she had covered yesterday, busying herself so she would not be conspicuous by her idleness in the buzzing beehive, were in a drawer of her desk. She opened it lifted the sheets and without glancing at what was written on them tore them in two, quietly, and dropped them into the wastebasket. She would count this her first day in the office and start it with a clean slate.

At 11 o'clock from the numberless ones she had written Marilyn culled six. She whispered them to herself. They sounded good. They were smooth, even lyrical. She managed to get Kathleen Garvan's ear without attracting the attention of workers at neighboring desks.

"Miss Garvan," she asked, "what do you do when you finish what the memo tells you to do?"

Kathleen Garvan smiled encouragingly.

"I'm sorry," she said, "I forgot to tell you—just press the buzzer on your desk. An office boy will come. Give him your copy. He will take it to the main desk—the big round one over in the corner where the three men and two women are sitting. They look it over first and if it gets past them it goes to Cookie—I mean Miss Cook. She's the last word, in this office. If she O.K.'s it, the next stop is what we call the 'cooler' because so much of our copy gets a cool reception there."

"How do you know what happens to your copy?"

"You get a memo. It never leaves you in doubt."

* * *

Lunch hour in Clarco was from 12 until 1. On the dot of 12 the promotion department stopped as if animation were suspended by a magic wand. Men and women, girls and boys, melted away and disappeared into the battery of elevators.

Now it was noon. Marilyn prepared to join the exodus. She wondered if it would be against regulations for her to remain at her desk. She was not hungry. She had no idea which way she would turn when she reached the street, where she would go when she did turn. Loneliness gives poor appetite.

"Miss Marsh," Kathleen Garvan called to her, "were you lunching any place in particular?"

'Never Dreamed I'd Feel So Good Again,' Thanks Vendol

Mansfield Veteran of Foreign Wars Was Miserable from Gas, Sour Stomach, Dizziness, Spots Before Eyes, and Headaches, Due To Constipation. Tells of Relief.

MR. CLARENCE MARMET

"Vendol has been a blessing to me," says Mr. Clarence Marmet of 308 Wayne street, Mansfield, an enameler by trade. "Before taking it I was constipated all the time and my other sufferings due to it became so bad I thought I couldn't find relief. After eating I felt distressed with sour stomach, acid risings, 'heartburn', cramps, and the gas was so bad sometimes I could hardly get my breath. At other times I felt so dizzy everything seemed to be going around and little spots danced before my eyes, and my head would ache.

"From the relief I got by taking Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets, you might think they were made especially for me. They gave the nicest, easiest, most complete bowel actions, and soon all those awful feelings passed off. Really, I never dreamed I could feel so well again, and give all credit to Vendol, and advise anyone suffering like I did to get some without delay."

As the good news of remarkable relief brought by Vendol is made public by well known men and women residing right here at home, the demand for this famous medicine grows all over this city and nearby vicinity. Vendol acts to relieve many outward symptoms when brought on by constipation or need for a mild kidney diuretic and some of the very best citizens are taking it. When a lot of people take Vendol and like it, you can pretty well count on it that you will like it too. This has been going on a long time, so why not start taking Vendol today and see for yourself just what it will do.

Vendol is sold by most all leading druggists here and is especially recommended by Central Drug store, corner Main and 4th streets.

THE DOCTOR, THE POLICE, The FIRE DEPARTMENT ALL HAVE 'PHONES! HAVE YOU?

HOW YOU CAN GET A CASH LOAN QUICKLY AND SIMPLY

You can borrow $100 if you can pay back $4.46 a month—See table for other loan plans—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Quick, friendly service.

YOU can get a personal loan without red tape or delay—if you can repay in small monthly installments. All you do to apply for a loan at Household is to acquaint us with your problem. You need no bankable security, no endorsers or guarantors.

You may repay your loan on any of the schedules shown in the table below. Thus you may choose the payment plan which best fits your own needs and income.

Payments to fit your purse

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will see, for instance, that monthly installments of $9.46 each will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $4.16 a month for thirty months will also repay a $100 loan.

You will note that the sooner you repay the less your loan costs. Four monthly installments of $26.26 each, or a total of only $105.04, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full.

Same rate to everyone

Installments shown in the table repay everything. These installments include charges at Household's rate of 2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $300, and 1½% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $300. This rate is substantially less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Household has only this one rate—the same for everyone, whether new customer or former borrower.

Simple to borrow

You get your Household Finance loan in a simple, private transaction. We require no stocks or bonds. Loans are made on furniture, car or note. You are spared the embarrassment of asking friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. And no questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives.

Considerate treatment

You may expect every consideration in case of sickness or unemployment while paying on a Household Finance loan. Last year we foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans. This action was taken only as protection against fraud.

If a loan can help you, phone or visit us for further information. No obligation.

Willkie Threatens Hatch Act Prosecution of Dems

DECLARES ADS IN CAMPAIGN BOOK ILLEGAL

Republican Nominee Has Chat With President's Son and Herbert Hoover.

(By Associated Press)

COLORADO SPRINGS — Wendell L. Willkie says one of his first acts, if he is elected president, will be to prosecute all persons who bought or sold advertising in the Democratic national committee's 1940 campaign book.

The Republican nominee told a press conference late yesterday that such advertising purchases were not only in violation of the Hatch anti-politics law but also overstepped the corrupt practices act.

Willkie's warning that "all violations" of the Hatch or corrupt practices act "will be relentlessly prosecuted" came shortly before a joint press conference with former President Herbert Hoover and wish of "good luck" from Elliott Roosevelt, the president's son.

During the press conference Willkie was advised that Mr. Roosevelt's son was in his hotel, and he picked up a telephone.

The nominee promptly received an acceptance to his invitation that the president's son come up for a non-political visit and the two men and their wives chatted for half an hour.

As the younger Roosevelt left, Willkie expressed the hope that he would have a pleasant vacation on his projected trout-fishing jaunt to Wyoming

"Thanks, I wish you good luck," Elliott responded.

Another Democrat to see Willkie was John Jones, brother of Federal Loan Administrator Jesse Jones. John Jones, a resident of Houston, Texas, said he would like to talk with the Republican nominee today.

Elliott Roosevelt, who came by automobile to Willkie's resort hotel here just three minutes ahead of Hoover, said it was "pure coincidence" that he and Hoover had adjoining suites in the hotel.

LIMIT CONTRIBUTIONS

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Assessment of state employes for campaign contributions was taboo officially in Ohio Republican circles today.

Recalling recent charges by former Gov. Martin L. Davey, Democrat, that a cabinet member ordered employes in his department to contribute to Gov. John W. Bricker's re-election sampaign, 150 Republican leaders in conference here Saturday night unanimously resolved to refrain from soliciting state workers for funds.

Investigate Plot To Wreck Pennsy Passenger Train

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— A plot to wreck the Pennsylvania railroad's Cincinnati limited was investigated by Columbus authorities today following arrest of seven men.

Eight railroad ties were placed on the tracks of the railroad's main line early Sunday. A yard engine, moving slowly, hit the ties several hours before the limited was due and damaged the engine slightly.

Detective Chief Ed Love said that one man had confessed that he and the others became intoxicated Saturday night and decided to wreck the train and rob the passengers. Four men were found asleep near the tracks and three others were arrested later. Police believed an eighth man was involved.

JOHN WILLIAMS DIES AT AGE 87

Had Lived in Centerton, North of Willard for 40 Years.

WILLARD—John Williams, 87, a resident of nearby Centerton for 40 years, died at his home Sunday morning. He was an active member of the small community, north of Willard.

Surviving are three sons, Albert of Lorain; Glenn and Clarence of Centerton, and a daughter, Mrs. Fred Heisler of Centerton.

Funeral services will be at the family home on Tuesday at 2:30 in charge o Rev. G. C. Heffelfinger. Burial will be in the Centerton cemetery.

FUNERAL IN BUTLER

Funeral services for Robert Guy Wilson, 58, of 228½ North Main street, will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the George funeral home in Butler, conducted by Rev. Schrack. Burial will be in Bunker Hill cemetery. He died Saturday at General hospital.

FARMER BURNED

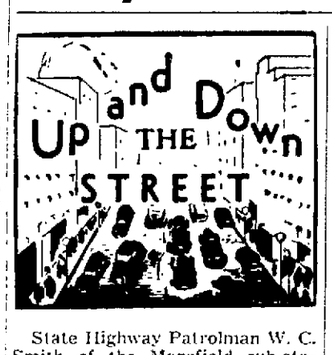
Says Industrial Defense Moves Too Slow



State Highway Patrolman W. C. Smith of the Mansfield sub-station, on two special details at Akron in a one-week period, has had his share of handling large crowds of people. Both details were at Soap Box Derbies. Aug. 4 he went to Akron to handle crowds at the Akron city derby, and again yesterday he was detailed to Akron to assist in handling traffic and crowds at the national Derby finals which attracted more than 50,000 persons.

One of the new members of the "sidewalk superintendent's" club—those unofficial supervisors following the progress of the Fourth street improvement from the curb—is former Mayor Claude "I. Hunter. He took up his post this morning at Fourth and North Walnut street and was busily engaged in conversation with workers over the why and wherefores of certain operations.

It looks like four Mansfield shotmakers are going to wage a hectic battle for championship honors at Possum Run this month. In the championship flight are three former champions and the defending titleholder. All have been shooting sub-par golf. Joe Mayer is the 1939 champion, but Jimmy Stout, Pete Linster and Carl Kushin are plenty hot. Mansfield golfers are wondering what will happen when the two finalists meet. It marks the first time that three former champs have entered the same tournament at Possum.

Atty. George Biddle was back home today from New York City where he visited H. R. McBride, former Mansfielder and a widely known artist and illustrator. The two have been friends for a number of years. McBride draws cover illustrations for such magazines as the Saturday Evening Post and Liberty. Another of his pictures will appear on a Liberty cover soon, he told Biddle.

DIES AT AGE 27

Glen W. Shaffer Stricken at Home Early Today.

Glen Wayne Shaffer, 27, died early today at the home of his step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William McCoy on Grace street.

Shaffer, a salesman, had been in failing health for about four years. He was a native of Bancroft, W. Va., and had lived in Mansfield six years. He was a member of the Glad Tidings tabernacle.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in the tabernacle with Rev. J. A. Wilkerson officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. The body will be returned to the McCoy home tonight from the Jones Memorial.

Surviving, besides Mr. and Mrs. McCoy, are two sisters, Mrs. Irene Berghofer and Miss Madeleon Shaffer, both of Mansfield.

NOT IN HURRY

Farley to Take Over Yanks After Season Closes.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Postmaster General James A. Farley will not take over the Yankees until after the close of the season.

There are many things to be ironed out, said Farley yesterday at the Yankee stadium where he watched the world champions whip the Athletics. Farley said he planned a tour of the club's minor-league holdings before the season ends.

16,000 ATTEND PLANT OUTING

Westinghouse Workers, Families Take Over Buckeye Lake for Gala Day.

Some 16,000 persons who attended the 20th annual Westinghouse employes picnic at Buckeye lake Saturday were back home today tired but happy.

The trek to the park was made by special train and automobiles by the largest crowd ever to attend the annual affair.

It was a day of festivity for the Mansfield plant office workers and production employes and their families and relatives, climaxed by a two-hour program of contests. Prizes were awarded the winners of the various events.

A golf match was staged at the nearby Harbor Hills course under the direction of Paul Jessen, president of the Westinghouse golf association

Joe Mayer paced the players with a 34 in the nine-hole event. Carl Kushin carded at 35 for second place and Lawrence Deley turned in a 36 for third place.

Mrs. P. Warga had a net 35 to win the women's blind bogey match, while first place for low went to Mrs. Al Kushin who scored a 49.

Low putt first prize was awarded to H. Bogner. Second prize went to Tony Schadek and third place to Harold Allen.

Long drive for women was won by Mrs. Hammer. Mrs. Crumb won second in the event.

Winners in the other contests were:

Peanut race—Jackie Fulwider and Joyce Payton. Grinning — Madge White and David Risacher. Hoop rolling—Dorothy Kuelling. Piggie Back polo—Earl Locke and William Ladd. Blind-fold target race—Eileen Jesson. Apple eating contest—William Cory. Rolling pin throwing— Alice Bright. Cardboard race—Earl Bunn. String guessing—Andrew Knapp, jr.

The tug-of-war prize of $15 went to the 15-man team made up of range department employes.

The grand prize—a Westinghouse refrigerator—was won by Margaret Waldeman, daughter of Peter Waldeman, 625½ Springmill street, a janitor at the plant.

ROOSEVELT RESUMES CHECK-UP OF NAVAL DEFENSE PROGRESS

NEWPORT, R. I. —(AP)— President Roosevelt resumed his "progress" checkup of defense construction under the nation's $10,000,000,000 rearmament program today after the presidential yacht Potomac slid out of a fog to dock at the naval torpedo station.

The chief executive who had spent the Sabbath at sea resting, was greeted at this society summer resort community by Gov. William H. Vanderbilt and by commanding officers of the three Newport naval establishments.

The Potomac had spent the night anchored in fog off Jamestown, a few miles below Newport on Narragansett Bay.

The president was below decks when the executive yacht reached Goat Island, 23-acre site of the torpedo station, which originally was purchased from the Indians by the grandfather of Benedict Arnold and once fortified for defense against buccaneers.

Senator Walsh (D., Mass.), chairman of the senate naval affairs committee, Senator Green, Mayor Henry Wheeler of Newport, Gov. Vanderbilt and his adjutant general, Herbert R. Dean, boarded the Potomac where they were met by Col. Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, and Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins.

The island, where intricate and secret devices for the deadly torpedoes are manufactured, is perhaps the most closely guarded of the government defense factories that the president has visited thus far on his New England tour.

PLANS OUTING

Committee Works on Picnic For County Farmers.

A committee representing farm organizations in Richland county was completing plans today for the third annual farm picnic which will be held next Saturday at South park, Mansfield.

Hundreds of county farmers and their families are expected to put aside their work for the day and enjoy a program of music, games, and contests and talk over their problems with their neighbors.

The program, scheduled to start about 9 a. m., will include a 4-H club demonstration contest, a 4-H club girls' style and dress revue, music for Gfrer's band of Mansfield, baseball, horseshoe pitching, and athletic contests.

There will be a basket dinner at noon and probably a talk by a farm authority during the afternoon, County Agent George B. Ganyard said.

WARNING GIVEN BY ASSISTANT WAR SECRETARY

Patterson Declares at Least Year Needed to Get Going at Present Rate.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—The work of consolidating the industrial front for defense is moving too slowly, Assistant Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson said today.

"At the present rate," he declared, "we cannot achieve our armament objectives in days, weeks or months. It will take at least a year before our industrial front can be consolidated.

"And a year is a luxury that we may never enjoy."

Patterson's ominous words were delivered as a new class of regular army and reserve corps officers assembled to begin an intensive, but abbreviated four months course in industrial procurement and mobilization problems at the army industrial college here.

He urged the students to give their profound study and wholehearted co-operation to a determined attack on the time factor in arming the United States. The American people, he said, stand ready to make sacrifices to reach the objective, and the procurement officers must do their part to carry out the defense program that has been planned.

"The program already is under way," Patterson conceded, "but there is much to be done." He added:

"We are still far from our goal of adequate preparedness on our supply front. Our principal enemy is time. Toward conquest of that foe we must devote all of our efforts, and exercise all of our ingenuity. The material preparedness of this nation is dependent in no small degree upon the efforts of graduates of the army industrial college. I know that all of you will consider the course a privilege and an opportunity to prepare yourself for more useful service to your country . . ."

45 SIGN UP

County Delegation to Elwood Ceremony Growing.

Forty-five reservations have been made by Mansfield people to make the special trip to Elwood, Ind., a week from tomorrow to hear the acceptance speech of Presidential Nominee Wendell L. Willkie.

The number is expected to increase considerably when the railroad excursion tickets go on sale. The tickets are $3.80 for the round trip, and may be purchased at the Erie ticket office or at the office of Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton at City building until Wednesday night.

The company announced that a dining car would be a part of the excursion train and a lunch counter and soft drink stand will be set up in another car. The city of Elwood has sent out word that no automobiles would be permitted in the small city, but that 250 acres of ground near the city would be available for parking purposes.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Speaking For Myself.

I think Broadway has discovered Central park—the breezes, the benches, and the stars overhead. There are more important romance items holding hands on those benches near the Plaza entrance than there are diamonds on Margot Grahame. . . . Watching "South of Pago Pago" the other evening made me wonder what native Hawaiians, Balinese, Haitians, etc., think when they see Hollywood movies about Hawaiians, Balinese and Haitians. I'll bet they get as mad as I do when I see Hollywood movies about reporters.

I guess a toupe is no longer considered an unromantic accessory, or something to be whispered about, because so many romantic gents have taken to wearing them. Charles (aaah) Boyer whips what the lads call a "lace piece" on and off his pate from time to time, as do Fred Astaire, Xavier Cugat, Bing Crosby and handsome Johnny Green.

I was in Radio City the other afternoon and heard a dialogue on the subject. Two girls were strolling a corridor and one said: "Hey, I just saw Johnny Green." "Oh," said the other, "did he have his hair on?"

* * *

I like any picture that has Jean Arthur in it. . . . I love Latin bands, but I think they're strictly to dance to. They bore me stiff on the stage. . . . Shrimps are a big problem to me when they come in a shrimp cocktail, as so often happens. I can't get a whole one into my mouth, and I can't cut them with those little forks. What do you do about that, Emily Post?

I've always wanted to visit San Francisco and New Orleans. . . . I love wax museums, but I can't stay in them for very long. That silent, eerie atmosphere gives me a funny feeling in my tummy.

I don't like white dresses on girls in the city in the daytime. . . . I love elephants, but not around the house. . . .

It always amuses me when $5,000-a-week movie stars gnash their teeth at having to play a scene with a puppy or a baby. They know that no matter what they do in the scene, the dog or the infant will get all the attention, and there's not a thing they can do about it.

Myrna Loy and William Powell both suffered untold agonies when they had to play in "The Thin Man" with Asta—and later with a baby — and pretend to adore them both.

* * *

I loved the Cosmopolitan profile on Oscar Levant. Looks like Oscar is replacing Dorothy Parker as America's No. 1 wit. . . . I like to watch storms, especially the ones with lots of lightning. . . . I always get a shock when I come across a friend I haven't seen in some time, and find he's suntanned the color of mahogany.

I think the women who sit under beauty parlor dryers in this weather just to get their hair fixed are nuts. That goes for me, too. . . . I wonder whatever became of that wonderful plan to pipe air-conditioning into your home, just like gas or electricity?

I am glad to hear the Hotel Brevoort is celebrating its 95th anniversary. I wasn't around when it was a child, but I adore it in its old age. . . . Next to show people I think baseball players are the most superstitious folk in the world.

* * *

I can't understand girls who sigh over lads who are tall, dark and slightly gray at the temple. I think gray hair at the temples is fine—but on your father . . . Education is a wonderful thing. I've never been to the Hall of Fame, and until I saw pictures of it in a movie the other night I always thought it was in Washington, D. C. . . .

* * *

Whenever I come across a much-married movie star I wonder what it must be like to have five or six husbands scattered around Hollywood so that no matter where you go you're bound to bump into one of them, if not two. Milton Berle was telling a story about that not long ago. He said he knew an actress who had been married for the sixth time and was introducing her 10-year-old son to her new husband.

"This is your new papa," she cooed, "say something nice to him." The lad walked over to the bridegroom and said, "Okay, will you write something in my guest book?"

I wonder what has happened to all those songs about the Southland. Don't the Tin Pan Alley songsmiths miss their mammies in Tennessee any more? . . . I like pantomine in little doses, when it's done by men—Harpo Marx and Jimmy Savo, for instance. When it's performed by a woman it drives me into a frenzy or boredom.

* * *

An armchair scientist informs me that a person uses up more energy working a typewriter than writing longhand. He's telling me? . . . I think nobody can be as whimsically devilish as John Barrymore—nor as effectively sarcastic. I remember the time in Hollywood when a nervy extra in one of the Great Profile's pictures slapped him on the back after a scene and said, "Nice work, John."

Barrymore withered him with a glance and said, "Don't be so formal. Just call me 'kid.'"

Chatter Corner

Just jottings about people you know, as they're seen here and there about town:

. . . W. C. (Bill) Mead cussin' because his key wouldn't open the lock on his office door. . . . Paul (investments) Cropper grinning over the low score he turned in at Westbrook Saturday. . . . Bob Stevens tripping the light fantastic at the University club dance. . . . Ben F. Owens telling the world about the huge catches he makes on those fishing trips to Lake Erie. . . . Joe Blahnik waving to a friend and colliding with the side of his Montgomery Ward building. . . . Russ Coleman eyeing with pride his newly constructed motor boat. . . . Fred Hien telling a youngster at Fourth and Main that Fourth street was different way back when. . . .

* * *

Carlton Fernyak trying to tell a Kiwanian associate how to reach the Hallery farm for the Thursday evening club picnic—and then deciding it would be better to take him along out, remembering how Rotarian Walter Willis couldn't find the Boy Scout camp a couple of weeks ago.

Corp. C. F. (Highway Patrol) Strayer, off on a ten-day vacation . . . Ralph B. (Y. M. C. A.) Chapman, editing motion pictures of "Y" summer activities.

Three Killed At Picnic When Debt Dispute Starts Gun Duel

BARBOURSVILLE, W. Va. —(AP)— A quarrel over a debt at a family picnic late yesterday resulted in a gun duel in which two men and a woman were killed and a third man critically wounded.

Cabell County Coroner F. X. Schuller, who returned a verdict of triple murder, said the shootings occurred at the home of J. S. Hammond, 69-year-old farmer, ten miles from here.

He identified the dead as Hammond, Mrs. Lessie Wickham, 40, wife of one of Hammond's tenants, and her son, James Bolen, 20.

John Barber, 33, a rural mail carrier, and son-in-law of Hammond, was shot five times. Hospital attendants said his condition was "fair."

"James Bolen and John Barber," Coroner Schuller said, "argued about Barber being in arrears on a debt and Barber began shooting at Bolen. Bolen went into a house, got a pistol and shot Barber in the back. Then Hammond struck Bolen with an axe. Bolen shot Hammond and Hammond before he died, shot and killed Mrs. Wickham and Bolen."

Arnold Registers 13th Win By Stopping Fostoria Club, 8 to 7.

THE Mansfield Braves choked off a desperate ninth inning splurge yesterday to eke out a thrilling 8 to 7 decision over the last-place Red Birds in an Ohio State league tilt at Fostoria.

Bob Arnold was on the mound for the Braves and although he gave up 14 hits, he kept them well-scattered until the late innings. Mansfield tied the score three times and then forged ahead to stay with two tallies in the ninth.

Yesterday's setto was a nip-and-tuck affair from the start. The score was tied at 2-all, 4-4 and 6-6 before Mansfield garnered the runs that gave it the win.

The Braves pounded out 19 hits, but until the eighth and ninth innings were unable to score more than one run in a frame.

Leading the Mansfield attack was Herb Woodten, who secured "four for five." All of the bingles were singles. Every player in the Mansfield lineup secured at least one hit. Tim Mangan had a double and two singles.

* * *

Arnold, in registering his 13th win of the season, fanned five and gave up four walks. Kinzel paced the losers' attack with a triple and two singles.

Bookies Defy Gambling Ban

Despite Governor Herbert Lehman's ban on handbooks at New York's famed Saratoga race track, the "bookies" are reported doing business on the town's streets. The above photo shows a newspaper reporter (arrow) placing a bet with one of the bookies. The reporter claims he witnessed the placing of more than $35,000 in bets such as the one he made. Bettors say the bookies give better odds than the pari-mutuel machines because the 10 per cent state tax is not deducted.

Allen, Smith Lose 2nd Tilt to Browns

CLEVELAND — (AP)— The "crucial series" days are here with Cleveland Detroit playing off their first place tie today, starting their home-stretch drive for the American league pennant.

The tie resulted from the Indians' split of a double header Sunday at St. Louis while Detroit dropped two games at Chicago.

* * *

Bob Feller carries Tribal hopes to the mound as well as his own aspirations for his 20th victory of the year. The rookie, Joe Gorsica, is his expected opponent.

The Indians felt their batting eyes sharpening again in poling out 28 hits in the St. Louis double header. They won the first game 12 to 4 but fell just short in the second 7 to 6.

Al Milnar twirled steadily in the opener as the Tribe pounded their former teammate, Willis Hudlin, and four other Brownie hurlers for 18 hits.

The second game was lost literally by an inch. Hal Trosky opened the scoring for Cleveland with his 20th home run of the season in the second inning.

* * *

Johnny Allen allowed no Brown to reach first base for three innings but they nicked him for a run in the fourth and fifth innings. Then Al Smith relieved him and suffered the loss.

The Browns held a three-run advantage in the ninth. With two out and Roy Weatherly on first base, Lou Boudreau doubled and Trosky singled Weatherly in. Jeff Heath then shot a drive to the right field pavilion but it struck just an inch below the edge of the roof and dropped back into the field for a double, scoring Boudreau only. Ken Keltner popped to end the game.

Team Commits 8 Errors In Dropping Second Tilt By a 6-2 Count.

By CHARLES MARTIN
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

"IT'LL happen to any team." That was the comment heard from hundreds of fans after the erstwhile undefeated Sons of Herman softballers saw their 18-game winning streak broken before approximately 2,000 spectators in the second game of a benefit doubleheader at Liberty park yesterday.

* * *

The Hermans marked up victory No. 18 by beating the Columbus Speedway A. C. colored team, 6 to 4, in the opener, but eight errors, five of them coming in one inning, cost the Herman outfit a 6 to 2 decision in the nightcap.

* * *

Proceeds of the game, which totaled over $50, will be turned over to John Stash, Mansfield athlete, to help defray expenses of a trip west for his health.

Manager Frank Beeber's classy outfit was enjoying a 2 to 1 lead going into the fifth frame of the second setto and the way Freddie Carver was tossing up his slants that advantage looked good.

Then things began happening. Carver retired the first two men to face him, but Gerald Schaefer fumbled a hot grounder and in his hurry to rifle the ball to Henrich he threw wild.

And that started the ball rolling. Before the Hermans could retire the side the players committed five bobbles and everyone of them figured in the scoring as the Speedways sent five markers across the plate to grab a 6 to 2 lead.

Outside of that bad inning the Hermans played fine ball, but they couldn't do anything with the speed deliveries of Oden, a right-hander, who seemed to possess everything.

* * *

Although limited to five hits in the opener, two less than the invaders got, the Hermans had little trouble winning as the club played errorless ball behind Jimmy Fullager.

* * *

A four-run splurge in the first inning gave the Hermans a 4 to 1 lead and it was never seriously threatened. Beeber's combine added two more tallies in the third.

Meanwhile, the Speedways, one of the finest teams to play in Mansfield this season, collected a marker in the first and three in the seventh in the first melee.

Fullager, who struck out five and didn't issue a walk, gave the visitors seven hits including three doubles, but he kept them well scattered. Fullager also worked two innings of the second tilt.

Ed Henrich, who had three errors in the second game, led the attack in the opener with a pair of singles. Harry Rodd added a double to the attack.

* * *

Batting honors in the second game went to Ross, who had a double. Potts, Speedway short stop, also paced his team with a two bagger.

* * *

The two games yesterday are the last the Hermans will play until they invade Elyria Tuesday to meet the Ridgeville Democrats in an opening round tilt in the district softball tournament. The affray is scheduled for 7 p. m.

Moore-Peterson Combination Stops Spear-Enos In Tourney

FILLING before a murderous attack handed by Thornton Moore and Warren Peterson, the Bob Spear-Bob Enos doubles combination, which has won the city doubles crown for the past four years, today found themselves out of the City-wide tennis tournament sponsored by Yuncker Brothers.

* * *

Moore and Peterson, who copped the Woodlawn doubles championship several weeks ago, dropped the champions 6-2, 12-10, and 8-6 and earned the right to enter the finals yesterday at the Woodlawn court.

* * *

Moore and Peterson will tangle with the winner of the Armold-Maul and Bourns-Slabaugh match for the city doubles championship.

* * *

In other matches played yesterday, Lowell Bourns defeated Fehl 6-1, 6-1; Thornton Moore defeated Zoll, 6-2, 6-3; and Arnold defeated Belz (no score was turned in.)

* * *

Thornton Moore, president of the Mansfield Tennis Association, said today that all third round matches must be played by today and that fourth round matches will begin tomorrow. Pairings for the fourth round matches will be published in tomorrow's News-Journal.

Tinkey Lumbers Mark Up 20th Softball Win

A 10 to 2 victory chalked up by the Tinkey Lumbers over the Aristocrats yesterday at the Forest Gardens sent their total to 20 wins in the last 23 starts.

* * *

"Stub" Winebrenner, Tinkey ace hurler, was on the mound for the Tinkeys, holding the Aristocrats to four hits.

* * *

Winebrenner struck out 13 of the opposing batters to chalk up his 266 strike-out so far this season or an average of 11½ strike outs per game.

Williams, Tinkey catcher, led the batters in the box by smashing out three hits out of four times at the plate. Sandel, Tinkey firstbaseman, got the only circuit smash of the contest.

* * *

The Tinkeys scored twice in the second frame, six times in the fourth, once in the fifth and once in the eighth for their ten-run total. The Aristocrats scored both their runs in the seventh inning.

* * *

Clement was on the mound for the Aristocrats, striking out two Lumbermen and allowing one base on balls. Altogether the Tinkeys found Clement for 13 hits.

Sandusky Moose Stops Mansfield Win Streak

AFTER chalking up 13 straight victories so far this season without a defeat, the Mansfield Moose club softball team was finally shoved into the losers column when they met the Sandusky Moose club yesterday at North Lake park.

* * *

Going into the eighth frame tied 5 and 5 the Sandusky outfit tallied two in that inning, then held the Mansfielders for the rest of the tilt to one lone tally to cop the decision. The final score was Sandusky 7, Mansfield 6.

Brown went the route for the Mansfielders, allowing the Sandusky ites 15 hits, while Sandusky used two pitchers—Grubbe and Scheck—against Mansfield. The Mansfield Moose club tagged the two pitchers for an 8-hit total.

Sandusky scored five times in the fourth frame and twice in the eighth for the winning seven runs. Mansfield tallied three times in the second, twice in the sixth, and once in the eighth for its six runs.

* * *

Caun, Sandusky shortstop, led the winners in the batter's box getting a round trip ticket and a single out of five times at the platter. Laipply, Mansfield second-sucker, paced the Mansfielders by smashing out three singles in four trips.

* * *

Mansfield Team Wins State DeMolay Crown.

Trouncing a Toledo team 18 to 5, the Baku chapter, Order of DeMolay softball team, won the state DeMolay softball championship in a game played last Friday in Cleveland as part of the state conclave program. The championship Mansfield team won its second game of the day when it defeated an Ohio all-star DeMolay team by a score of 4 to 2. No box scores were available.

Merchants In Tourney Loss

Girls Will Still Play In State Softball Meet.

Held to three lonely hits by the sparkling hurling of Pitts, the Mansfield Merchant Girls came out on the short end of a 2 to 1 decision when they met the Bittner Funeral Home girls' team in the District tournament at Elyria yesterday.

* * *

The two teams went into the ninth frame in a 1 to 1 deadlock, but the Bittner club pushed over a single tally in the last half of the ninth to win the ball game.

Clark was on the hill for the Mansfielders, allowing six hits. Yesterday's loss doesn't prevent the Merchants from entering the state tournament in Columbus later in the season.

Challenge Moose Team For Softball Series.

Managers of the Y. M. C. A. Commercial softball league teams issued a challenge today to the Moose Lodge combine for a five-game series after the current season closes. If the Moose players, who have chalked up 12 straight wins in the circuit, accept Pete Metz, manager of Nick's Place team, stated today that the loop pilots will select three players from each of the teams. The club will be known as the Commercial league All-Stars. Managers will meet this week to name the players, Metz said.

Parkmen Drop NCO Contest To Ontario

Smith Halts 1st-Place Park Combine With 8 Hits.

Liberty Park's North Central Ohio baseball combine dropped a 5 to 2 decision to the Ontario nine yesterday at Ontario.

* * *

Pete Beer was on the mound for the Mansfield club, allowing the Ontarios eight hits and striking out three opposing batters. Smith was the winning pitcher, permitting eight hits and fanning seven.

* * *

Ontario pushed over one run in the second, two in the third, and two more in the seventh for its five-run total. Mansfield tallied once in the first frame and one in the seventh for its two runs.

Hammon paced the winners in the batter's box by smashing out a double and a single out of four trips. Kieser, Liberty Park outfielder, led the Mansfielders by getting a double and a single out of four journeys to the plate.

Mayer Opens Defense Of Golf Crown

Interest settled on the Possum Run course today as the defending champion and three former titleholders square off in opening round matches of the club championship flight.

Joe Mayer, the 1939 champion, will tangle with Rollie Rachel in one of the top-notch matches. Rachel has been the runner-up several times.

The three former champs who will see action this week are Pete Linster, Jimmy Stout and Carl Kushin.

In other matches, John Carr plays Tony Lake, Ray Oakes squares off against Carl Wiseman, Lawrence Daley clashes with Fred Hanawalt and Nick Linster meets Al Kushin.

Indians Split Tilts

Divide With St. Louis as Tigers Drop Twin Bill To White Sox.

By GAYLE TALBOT
(AP Sports Writer.)

OSCAR VITT was in the happy position of being able to send Bob Feller, the best pitcher in the business, to the mound today as his Cleveland Indians opened an important two-game series against the Detroit Tigers at Cleveland.

The two clubs fought their way into a tie for the American league lead yesterday, each with 64 wins and 44 losses, and the outcome of their battles today and tomorrow night have a vital bearing on the race. Should Feller win today and put the Indians out in front, it would not be surprising to see Vitt begin pitching his boy wonder out of turn and giving him frequent relief assignments in a determined effort to stay in front.

* * *

The Tigers suffered two painful losses to the Chicago White Sox yesterday, each by scores of 4 to 3, to lose the leadership. The Sox knocked ace Buck Newsom from the hill in the first and beat Tommy Bridges in the nightcap, despite homers by Hank Greenberg and Rudy York.

Cleveland gained a full game by splitting with the St. Louis Browns, winning the first 12 to 4 but losing the second 7-6.

A brilliant youngster and a game veteran waged a thrilling mound duel at Washington, and in the end young Sid Hudson of the Senators beat Lefty Grove of the Red Sox, 2 to 1. Hudson gave five hits and drove across a run.

The Yankees made it three straight over the Philadelphia Athletics when Joe Gordon slapped a home run into the left field stands in the 11th to win 7-6.

Cincinnati's National league lead was whittled to five games as the champions bowed to the St. Louis Cardinals twice, 3 to 2 and 3 to 1. Brooklyn gained a game by splitting with the Boston Bees. Bill Posedel, a former teammate, licked the Dodgers, 3 to 2, in the first, but Lefty Vito Tamulis blanked the Bees, 3 to 0, to make it a draw.

Frankie Frisch's amazing Pittsburghers scored twice over the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 3 and 5 to 1, vaulting into fourth place only two games back of the New York Giants.

The Phillies and the Giants broke even at Shibe park. Kirby Higbe snapped a nine-game losing streak for the Phils when he beat the Giants, 2 to 0, in the opener. Hal Schumacher then set the Phils down with three hits to win 8-2.

SPORTS GOSSIP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK —(AP)— Greetings, folks. Just pull up a chair and let's see what's going on. . . . Guess you noticed Mike Jacobs hasn't bought the Dodgers yet—and if you think he will, you've got a bet right here. . . . Lots of talk around town about another famous tennis family ready to crack up. (That's tantalizing, we know, but you'll get the names the minute one of them buys a ticket for Reno.)—Our Brooks still are in there punching, but from this perch it looks like Deacon Bill McKechnie's lads by at least ten games. (Remember that one.)

Why the Phils should end the season.

PROMOTED DOWNWARDS.

What'll you bet Buddy Lewis isn't managing one of the Washintgon farm clubs next season? . . . When Alice Marble, the tennis star, lunches with newspaper men (and other guys) she is chaperoned by her coach, Eleanor Tennant. All very pleasant, but it runs up the check, boys. . . . Rice is making goo-goo eyes at Ike Gill, 200 pounds of trouble, who lost a decision to the Academics at Duke.

Saints Move Up In Loop

Take 3-Game Series From Association Leaders.

(By Associated Press)

The St. Paul Saints moved into the American association's first division the hard way, climbing into a good spot to qualify for a Shaughnessy playoff berth at the expense of Kansas City.

* * *

The Kansas City Blues had been mowing down all comers until the Saints came along, having won 19 of their last 25 games. But St. Paul swept a three-game series with the league leaders by taking both ends of a doubleheader yesterday, 5 to 1 and 2 to 0.

* * *

Yesterday's two victories boosted St. Paul a full game ahead of Louisville in fifth place.

Minneapolis cut two games off the Blues' lead by winning both ends of a twin bill from Milwaukee, 6 to 5, and 10 to 3.

* * *

Columbus dropped a full game in its bid for second place, sliding four games behind the Millers when the Birds split their bargain bill with Indianapolis. The Indians dropped the first contest, 3 to 2, but swamped their foes in the nightcap, 18 to 4.

Heroes and Goats

(By International News Service)

HEROES — Ted Lyons, White Sox, who pitched and batted his team to a victory over the Detroit Tigers; Joe Gordon, Yankees, whose homer gave the Yanks an 11-inning triumph over the Aathletics; Mort Cooper, Cardinals, who pitched two-hit ball to beat the Reds.

GOATS—Buddy Hassett, Bees, whose error paved the way for the Dodgers to beat Boston; Hugh Mulcahy, Phillies, who threw a home-run ball to Babe Young with the bases loaded as the Giants beat Philadelphia in the second game of a doubleheader.

Riggs Downs Don McNeill

Eliminates Champion From Eastern Final.

RYE, N. Y.—(AP)—Don't let Bobby Riggs' ridiculous duck waddle and his boyish manners disarm you. They hide one of the shrewdest brains in tennis.

* * *

Ask Don McNeill, the national clay courts champion, who was almost ready to feel sorry for the supposedly-slipping national champion before they took to the courts for the eastern grass courts final yesterday.

* * *

For Don was the gallery idol, the man who was to deliver tennis from a champion who hasn't exactly been overwhelmed with popularity. But Don was victimized by "Ruby Robert" 6-2, 3-6, 7-5, 6-4 simply because the little guy is able to visualize every opponents' weakness, and is fully able to rise to whatever occasion presents itself.

For a slugger like McNeill, the Riggs' brain has figured out the answer—steadiness. He covered worlds of court, returning shot after shot until Don's durability wore out. Bobby gambles recklessly on occasion—and he never chokes up when a match point is staring him in the face.

* * *

Gardnar Mullay and Henry Prusoff beat McNeill and Frank Parker, 6-4, 6-3, 19-21, 6-2 in the doubles final.

Week-End Costly For Fremont Club

FREMONT—(AP)—The week-end was costly for the Fremont Green Sox of the Ohio State league.

* * *

Fremont lost the services of Pitcher Johnny Orphal, suspended for insubordination, after Saturday night's 8 to 3 defeat by Lima and followed it up Sunday by dropping a doubleheader to Findlay, 3 to 0 and 4 to 2.

* * *

Manager A. O. Bauman said Orphal, Wapakoneta resident and ace moundsman of the Fremont squad, allowed six stolen bases and permitted a Lima runner to steal home in addition to engaging in arguments with umpires and players Saturday night at Lima.

In other Sunday games, Mansfield made 20 of the game's 35 hits in beating Fostoria, 8 to 7, and Lima beat Tiffin 8 to 6.

KENYON COLLEGE STAR WINS AAU SWIM MEET

CINCINNATI —(AP)— William Griffin of Cleveland, a Kenyon college star, won the National A. A. U. 300-meter junior medley trophy by crossing the finish line ahead of Ken Pilkenton of Huntington, Ind., in second place, and Don Twining of Cleveland, third, in a water carnival here yesterday.

Jack Hill of Springfield, O., won the men's 100-yard free style match, defeating George Haines of Huntington and Roy Lagley of Cincinnati at the annual Summet Hills A. A. U. meet at nearby Covington, Ky.

Billy Conn, Pastor Meet In Ring Battle

By LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK—(INS)—Two of the sweetest boxers but least effective punchers currently in the pugilistic business, Billy Conn, light heavyweight champion, and Bob Pastor today awaited that moment when they will be sent against each other tomorrow night under such strange circumstances.

* * *

One of them will be temporarily eliminated from heavyweight contendership in this fight and the other will suffer a similar setback against Joe Louis next month, if all goes according to the scenarios. Up to now everything has.

* * *

For instance, quite as expected, Conn was a 9 to 5 favorite when he opened his training camp a few weeks ago in the hills adjacent to Ferndale, N. Y., with all that money from his native Pittsburgh riding on him. But the price has been shaved to 7 to 5 and the word was out today that the ringside quotation undoubtedly will be 6 to 5 and take your pick, or a simple even money.

This would give a truer line on the men and the situation that any such one-sided odds as they have been quoting against Pastor as he toiled right here through heat waves and all in Stillman's west side gymnasium.

The youngish and smallish but veteran heavyweight campaigner has looked great in his work, and we know at least a half dozen thoroughly reliable denizens of the cauliflower patches who will tell you that Pastor can't miss winning this one. He has the heart and the speed to match Conn in these important departments, but he also has something else—a discomfiting right hand punch to the body.

Conn is notorious for his antipathy to any such harassment. His ribs will get a knuckling this time, and upon how he stands up under it all will probably answer how the fight will go.

* * *

But getting away from all that technical stuff—and looking at this encounter through the eyes of the two principals and their respective keepers—none of them is in the slightest concerned about tomorrow night's festivities and all are thinking only of next month's engagement with Louis for a far more lucrative payday and the slim chance of winning the heavyweight title.

* * *

It can be safely predicted that unless the winner of this scheduled 15-rounder wins decisively there will be no Louis match later, and the result of this situation figures to be a rousing battle between two of the most agile big fellows currently in the business. They will be fighting for more than a victory. That shot at Louis is the background.

Stage Battle For 1st Place

Senators Face Crucial Series With Akron.

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—(AP)—Charleston's Senators, battling for first place in the Mid-Atlantic league, hoped for a second victory today in their crucial three-game series with the first-place Akron Yankees.

* * *

The Senators took the opener last night, 5 to 1, although outhit, 8 to 10.

* * *

Youngstown remained deadlocked with Charleston for second place by trimming Portsmouth 3 to 2. The victorious Browns also were outhit, 6 to 8.

At Canton, the Dayton Wings turned in a 5 to 3 victory over the Terriers behind the six-hit hurling of Red Ricketts.

Sports In Brief

(By Associated Press)

CULVER, Ind. — Bobby Carrothers, Coronado, Calif., wins National Junior Tennis title, beating Earl Bartlett, of New Orleans, 6-2, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5; Bobby Falkenburg of Hollywood, beats Jim Brink, Seattle, 8-6, 6-3, for boys championship.

* * *

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Dick Shaughnessy, Dedham, Mass., wins National 12 Guage Skeet Shooting championship, beating Alex Kerr, Los Angeles, and F. S. Hawkins, Dallas, in shoot off after breaking 249 out of 250 targets.

ROBERT JAITE WINS NATIONAL OUTBOARD RACE

CLEVELAND —(AP)— The roaring whine of racing motors died out of Cleveland's harbor today after two days of National Outboard association competition but in the memories of 20,000 spectators one race stood out.

The white hair and dash of Robert Jaite, 79, of Jaite, O., captured the admiration of the crowds as he battled with Jack Wood, 33, of Detroit, in their Class 225 boats.

FACE CINCINNATI YOUTHS

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Charles Samson and Billy Friel of Portsmouth faced two Cincinnati youths, Sam Levine and Dick McClanahan, as junior events enlivened the Ohio Valley Tennis tournament here today.

Cincinnati Reds Are Having Their Ups And Downs, Too

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— The Cincinnati Reds hope Frank McCormick, who is leading the National league in the specialty of using his war club to send base runners around to the payoff station, has his sights lined on the ball when they face Pittsburgh tonight.

* * *

Bucky Walters will be trying for his 17th victory against the mound work of Max Butcher, but there is a feeling among the Rhinelanders, frequently borne out, that if McCormick is hitting they win.

* * *

This belief that as McCormick goes so goes the team was borne out again yesterday to the Reds' discomfort as they dropped a double header 3-2 and 3-1 to the St. Louis Cardinals in Cincinnati. The big first sacker didn't get a single safety in six attempts during the opener, in the nightcap he failed to hit the ball out of the infield.

The hurling of Mort Cooper, who allowed only two hits, stopped McCormick and his teammates in the opener. In the fourth Bill Werber hit safely and Cooper walked both Mike and Frank McCormick.

Ernie Lombardi took advantage of the opportunity to single in two runs, but the Reds counted no more. Paul Derringer allowed only six hits but was unable to mark up his 17th victory.

* * *

The Cards, who had lost five straight, grabbed two runs in the opening round of the nightcap and breezed on to victory behind the effective pitching of Lon Warneke, who permitted ten hits.

* * *

The nightcap defeat was Jim Turner's loss, after allowing 11 hits. With the second-place Dodgers splitting a double header, the Reds pennant race advantage dropped .. five games.

The reason some people lose their shirts in time of disaster is because they had insured only their pants . . . Have you protected EVERYTHING? An analysis will tell!

THEATERS

Amnesia Victim.

Continuing through Tuesday at the Ohio is the gay comedy, "I Love You Again," in which Myrna Loy and William Powell cut many capers. Powell, who plays the role of a chap suffering from amnesia, gets himself involved in many complicated circumstances most embarrassing to all. Edmund Lowe and Frank McHugh add their jovial bits to the play.

* * *

Dead End Kids in Trouble.

With the five Dead End Kids and the Little Tough Guys sharing honors with Nan Grey and a fine supporting cast "You're Not So Tough" is playing through Tuesday at the Madison. The boys are seen as migrant workers following California's crops but preferring to live by their wits rather than by the sweat of their brows. Non Grey is a "dust bowl" refugee with whom Billy Halop falls in love. The co-feature is "Blondie Has Servant Trouble."

* * *

Mystery and Love Story.

What happens when a daring lone wolf avenger counters the desperate activities of an international jewel smuggler, extricates himself from false charges of murder and succeeds in escaping from the police who are baffled by his unusual escapades, provides the major theme of "The Saint's Double Trouble," which is at the Park. The co-feature is the entertaining comedy "The Doctor Takes a Wife," starring Loretta Young and Ray Milland.

* * *

Exciting Sequences.

RESOLUTION NO. 40-115

By Mr. Berg

Declaring it necessary to improve Walter Avenue from Sturges Avenue to Wood Street by grading the street and paving the roadway with concrete, brick, block, sheet asphalt or other suitable material and constructing the necessary curbing, headers, storm drainage, etc.

Be It Resolved by the Council of the City of Mansfield, State of Ohio, Three-Fourths of all Members elected thereunto concurring:

Sec. 1. That it is necessary to improve Walter Avenue from Sturges Avenue to Wood Street by grading the street and paving the roadway with concrete brick, block sheet asphalt or other suitable material and constructing the necessary curbing, headers, storm drainage, etc.

Sec. 2. That the grade of said street as improved shall be the established grade; and that the grade of the curbs shall be as established.

Sec. 3. That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of the proposed improvement heretofore prepared by the City Civil Engineer and now on file in the office of the Department of Public Service, be and the same are hereby approved.

Sec. 4. That the whole cost of said improvement, less the cost of intersections and one-fiftieth of the total cost shall be assessed by the foot front upon the following described lots and lands, to-wit, all lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specifically benefitted by said improvement; and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of printing, publishing and serving the necessary legal notices, the printing and publishing of the necessary resolutions and ordinances, the cost of construction and inspection together with interest on bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments, and all other necessary expenditures.

Sec. 5. That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in five annual installments, with interest on deferred payments at the same rate as to be borne by the bonds to be issued therefor, provided that the owner of any property assessed may, at his option, pay such assessment in cash within thirty days from and after the passage of the assessing ordinance in which case said cash assessment shall not include any item of interest upon bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred installments of assessments.

Sec. 6. That bonds of the City of Mansfield shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an amount equal thereto.

Sec. 7. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement, not specially assessed, including the cost of intersections, together with the cost of any real estate or interest therein, purchased or appropriated, and the cost and expense of any appropriation proceeding therefor, and the damages awarded any owner of adjoining or abutting lands and interest thereon, and the cost and expense of such award shall be paid by the City of Mansfield, Ohio, in the manner provided by law.

Sec. 8 This resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed August 6, 1940.

ORDINANCE NO. 40-133

By Mr. Berg:

An ordinance determining to proceed with the improvement of south side of Park Avenue West and Glenbeck Lane, to-wit: South side of Park Avenue West from sanitary sewer in Linden Road west a distance of 1100 feet more or less; and Glenbeck Lane from Park Avenue West to south end of Glenbeck Lane by the construction of 10 inch and 8 inch sanitary sewers and authorizing the issuance and sale of bonds to pay for said improvement.

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Mansfield, State of Ohio, Three-fourths of all the members elected thereto concurring:

Sec. 1. That it is hereby determined to proceed with the improvement of South side of Park Avenue West and Glenbeck Lane, to-wit: South side of Park Avenue West from sanitary sewer in Linden Road west a distance of 1100 feet more or less; and Glenbeck Lane from Park Avenue West to south end of Glenbeck Lane by the construction of 10 inch and 8 inch sanitary sewers in accordance with Resolution No. 40-91 passed June 25th, 1940 and in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of said improvement heretofore approved and now on file in the office of the Department of Public Service of said city.

Sec. 2. That all claims for damages resulting therefrom shall be judicially inquired into after completion of the proposed improvement.

Sec. 3. That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fiftieth of the total cost shall be assessed in proportion to the benefits resulting from the improvement upon the lots and lands bounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement, and the remaining portion of the cost of said proposed improvement shall be paid by the City of Mansfield, Ohio.

That to provide a fund for the payment of the portion of the cost and expense for which special assessments are authorized to be levied for the improvement of Park Avenue West and Glenbeck Lane as aforesaid, the Mayor and Auditor be and they are hereby authorized to issue, advertise for sale and sell according to law Three Thousand Seven Hundred ($3700.00) Dollars of Street Assessment Bonds of the City of Mansfield, Ohio, in denominations of from 50 to 1000 Dollars each, payable in from One to three years, and bearing interest at the same rate as to be borne by the bonds to be issued therefor; payable semi-annually.

That to provide a fund to pay that portion of the cost of said improvement which has to be paid by the City of Mansfield, Ohio to-wit: $74.00 to be taken from the proper classification within the General Fund.

And the proceeds thereof shall be applied to the payment of the cost and expense of said improvement as aforesaid, and to no other purpose whatsoever.

An annual levy shall be made during the term of said bonds in an amount sufficient to pay the interest on the same and to provide a sinking fund for their redemption as they mature.

Sec. 4. That the following lots and lands shall be assessed for said improvement as above determined. All the lots and lands bounding and abutting upon said improvement on South side of Park Avenue West between Linden Road and Glenbeck Lane and Glenbeck Lane from Park Avenue West to end of Glenbeck Lane.

Sec. 5. That upon the sale of said bonds the proceeds thereof, together with the moneys received, if any, from the cash payments of assessments, shall be placed in the City Treasury, the accrued interest and premiums shall be placed to the credit of the sinking fund, and the remaining portion of the purchase price of said bonds shall be placed to the credit of Park Ave. West & Glenbeck Lane street improvement fund and disbursed upon proper vouchers in payment of the cost and expense of the improvement aforesaid, and all moneys coming into said Park Ave. West & Glenbeck Lane street improvement fund are hereby appropriated for the purpose of said disbursements.

Sec. 6 That the Director of Public Service be and he is hereby authorized and directed to advertise for bids and to make and execute a contract for said improvement with the lowest and best bidder, according to law.

Sec. 7. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

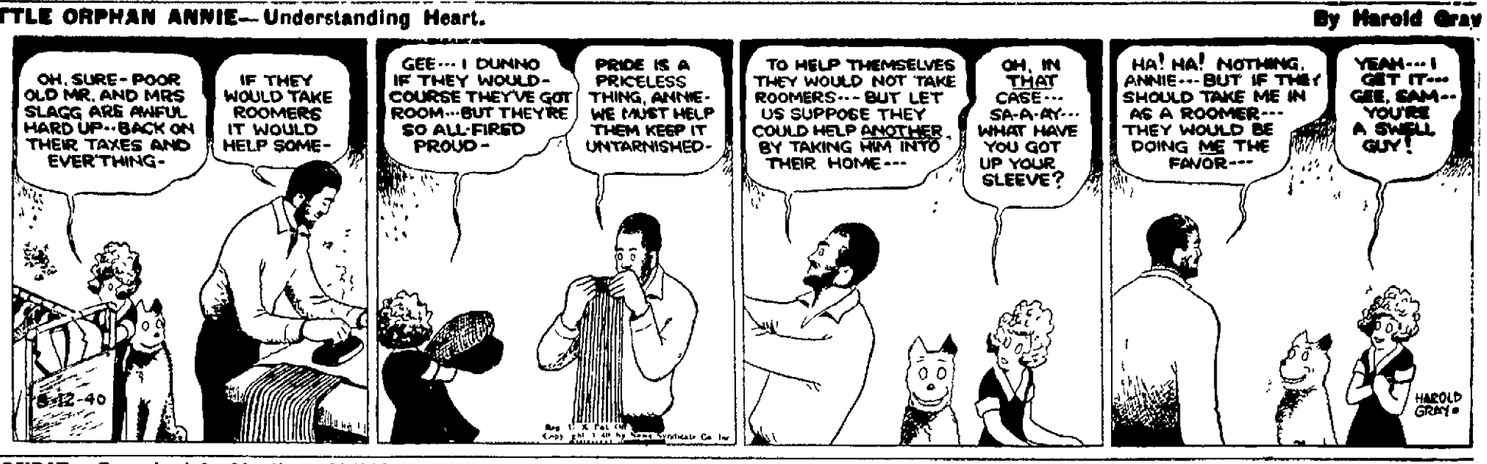
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE— Understanding Heart. By Harold Gray



OH, SURE - POOR OLD MR. AND MRS SLAGG ARE AWFUL HARD UP - BACK ON THEIR TAXES AND EVER'THING -
IF THEY WOULD TAKE ROOMERS IT WOULD HELP SOME -
8-12-40
GEE --- I DUNNO IF THEY WOULD - COURSE THEY'VE GOT ROOM - BUT THEY'RE SO ALL-FIRED PROUD -
PRIDE IS A PRICELESS THING, ANNIE - WE MUST HELP THEM KEEP IT UNTARNISHED -
TO HELP THEMSELVES THEY WOULD NOT TAKE ROOMERS --- BUT LET US SUPPOSE THEY COULD HELP ANOTHER BY TAKING HIM INTO THEIR HOME ---
OH, IN THAT CASE --- SA-A-AY --- WHAT HAVE YOU GOT UP YOUR SLEEVE?
HA! HA! NOTHING, ANNIE --- BUT IF THEY SHOULD TAKE ME IN AS A ROOMER --- THEY WOULD BE DOING ME THE FAVOR ---
YEAH --- I GET IT --- GEE, SAM --- YOU'RE A SWELL GUY!

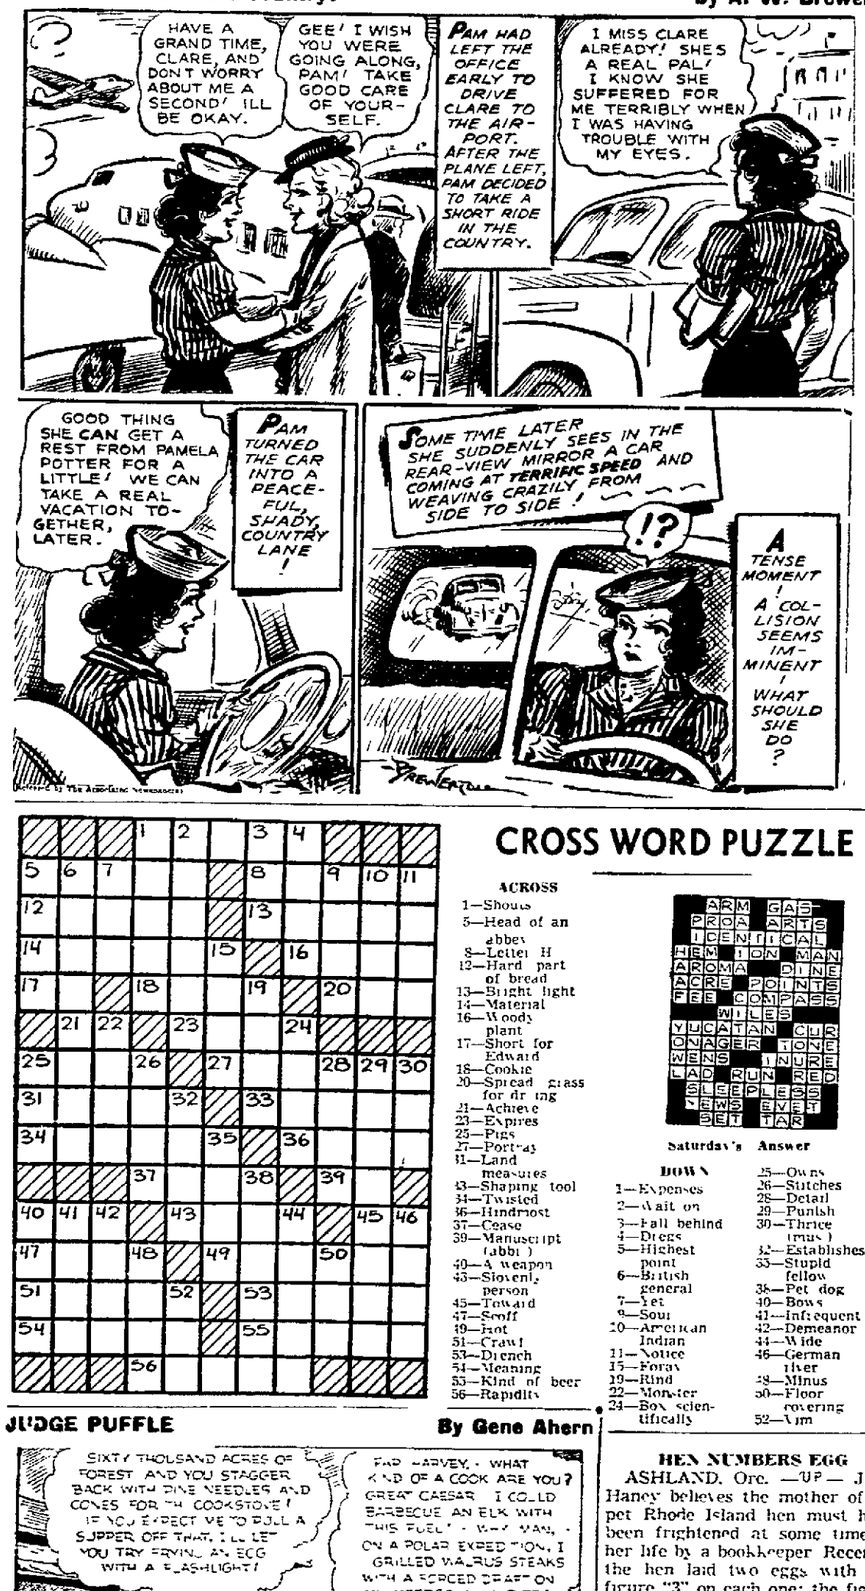
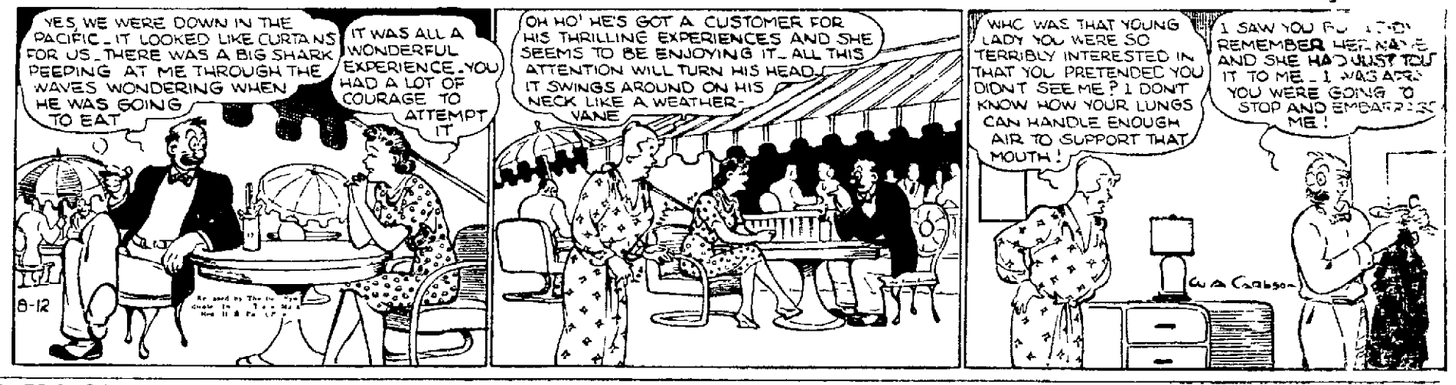
PAM— A Ride In the Country! By A. W. Brewerton



HAVE A GRAND TIME, CLARE, AND DON'T WORRY ABOUT ME A SECOND! ILL BE OKAY.
GEE! I WISH YOU WERE GOING ALONG, PAM! TAKE GOOD CARE OF YOURSELF.
PAM HAD LEFT THE OFFICE EARLY TO DRIVE CLARE TO THE AIRPORT. AFTER THE PLANE LEFT, PAM DECIDED TO TAKE A SHORT RIDE IN THE COUNTRY.
I MISS CLARE ALREADY! SHES A REAL PAL! I KNOW SHE SUFFERED FOR ME TERRIBLY WHEN I WAS HAVING TROUBLE WITH MY EYES.
GOOD THING SHE CAN GET A REST FROM PAMELA POTTER FOR A LITTLE! WE CAN TAKE A REAL VACATION TOGETHER, LATER.
PAM TURNED THE CAR INTO A PEACEFUL, SHADY, COUNTRY LANE!
SOME TIME LATER SHE SUDDENLY SEES IN THE REAR-VIEW MIRROR A CAR COMING AT TERRIFIC SPEED AND WEAVING CRAZILY FROM SIDE TO SIDE!
!?
A TENSE MOMENT! A COLLISION SEEMS IMMINENT! WHAT SHOULD SHE DO?

THE NEBBS— The Hero. By Col Ness



YES, WE WERE DOWN IN THE PACIFIC - IT LOOKED LIKE CURTAINS FOR US - THERE WAS A BIG SHARK PEEPING AT ME THROUGH THE WAVES WONDERING WHEN HE WAS GOING TO EAT
IT WAS ALL A WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE - YOU HAD A LOT OF COURAGE TO ATTEMPT IT
8-12
OH HO! HE'S GOT A CUSTOMER FOR HIS THRILLING EXPERIENCES AND SHE SEEMS TO BE ENJOYING IT - ALL THIS ATTENTION WILL TURN HIS HEAD - IT SWINGS AROUND ON HIS NECK LIKE A WEATHER-VANE
WHO WAS THAT YOUNG LADY YOU WERE SO TERRIBLY INTERESTED IN THAT YOU PRETENDED YOU DIDN'T SEE ME? I DON'T KNOW HOW YOUR LUNGS CAN HANDLE ENOUGH AIR TO SUPPORT THAT MOUTH!
I SAW YOU [illegible] REMEMBER HER NAME AND SHE HAD JUST TOLD IT TO ME - I WAS AFRAID YOU WERE GOING TO STOP AND EMBARRASS ME!

HEN NUMBERS EGG

BOY PUNCHES BEAR

BUTTE, Mont. —(U.P.)— Donny Lodders, Butte newspaper carrier boy, was driving through Glacier National park with his mother and sister, when a bear attempted to get into the automobile. Donny immediately punched the bear in the nose and kept it up until Bruin fled. The boy was bitten, however.

HAS 3 NO-HITTERS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (U.P.)— Thirteen-year-old Bob Danielson, whose father is a catching veteran of the old Minneapolis-Anoka league, has pitched three consecutive no hit games this season.

STOCKS FAIL TO ATTRACT MUCH SUPPORT TODAY

Selective Buying Continues In Market; Steels, Aircrafts Given Mild Lift.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Selective buying continued as a stock market drop today although many leaders were unable to attract much support.

Given a mild lift at one time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Consolidated Edison, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse and Standard Oil of N. J. DuPont was up 2 points on small turnover.

Bonds and commodities shifted narrowly.

Holders of automotive shares expressed interest in forecasts from Detroit of a possible new car shortage during the latter part of August and early September.

BUY GUERNSEYS

Purchase of two registered Guernsey cows by Mansfield breeders was announced today by the American Guernsey Cattle club Jay B. Daubenspeck acquired one of the cows from the Chester C. Bolton estate at South Euclid, while the other was purchased by Roger A. Black from Lee Humphrey, jr., of Mansfield.

BIG NEWS . . . IS GOOD NEWS
FOR ADVERTISERS!

A lot of thoughtful advertisers have been raising questions about the potency of newspaper advertising during "Big News" periods When news interest shoots upward, do advertisers' opportunities decline? Do exciting headlines and dispatches cause people to pay less attention to the ads?

Current newspaper research indicates the opposite is true.

The Second World War certainly qualifies as "Big News." In the past ten months, this war has demonstrated three ways in which "Big News" affects newspaper reading.

First MORE PEOPLE READ NEWSPAPERS. A recent study made by The Bureau of Advertising reveals substantial circulation gains by newspapers in all parts of the country in May and June of this year over May and June of last year. (It was early in May that "Total War" began.) Naturally, the more news there is, and the more important it is, the more papers are bought and read. Partial news coverage by other media merely whets people's desire to get the WHOLE story . . . in newspapers.

Second, PEOPLE SPEND MORE TIME WITH THEIR NEWSPAPERS. War news or other "Big News" usually means ADDITIONAL reading . . . over and above the habitual reading of the local news, the regular departments, the continuing features, and the advertisements in the newspaper.

Third, and even more important, "Big News" tends to INCREASE, RATHER THAN DECREASE, THE READING OF NEWSPAPER ADS.

Evidence From All Angles Proves That "Big News" Is GOOD News For Advertisers

History's Biggest Air Battle Resumed Today

Nazi Planes Continue Attack on Coast Of Britain in Great Waves; 20 Reported Shot Down at the estuary of the Thames and running the length of the English channel and south coast.

One of the chief German objectives today appeared to be the great barrage of balloons—the "wall" of gas bags to which steel cables are attached—which is designed to protect important south and southeast coast objectives from attack.

In one severe raid on a southeast point between five and seven German planes were said to have been downed. Five were shot down at another spot and two at a third point. Another bomber was bagged on the northeast coast.

Two waves of Heinkel bombers carried out a dive-bombing assault on a south coast town. It was reported that three of the attacking planes were shot down by anti-aircraft fire.

Despite the intensity of the German air attacks, British experts doubted that the raids marked the opening of a real blitzkrieg against Britain.

They said that the raids appeared to be testing the strength of Royal Air Force defensive squadrons in preparation for the launching of still heavier aerial attacks which would seek to break British morale. A second objective was held to be the damaging of British ports and shipping as an aid to the long-range German blockade attempt.

At one south coast town the German raiders ran into a terrific barrage of anti-aircraft artillery. British guns brought down two German planes in flames.

At a southeast town 12 German flyers bailed out by parachute from five planes which were shot down. They were quickly rounded up.

At another southeast town one bomber dropped four bombs in the residential district. Several persons were injured. One of the first battles of the day was fought at a height of 12,000 to 15,000 feet over the southeast coast. In this dog fight British Hurricanes and Spitfires attacked a large formation of German bombers and fighters which were gunning for the balloon barrage. Preceding the appearance of the German squadron other German planes flying at a great height had put out a 15-mile smoke screen. The follow-up planes emerged from this screen.

More than 100 planes participated in the first battle when the Germans, undismayed by losses in yesterday's mass duels, put by the British air ministry at 60 out of 400, returned to the attack in a determined attempt to destroy the coastal balloon barrage.

In the second fight about 30 Junkers-88s flew over a southeast England town in the biggest raid on that immediate area since the war started.

Five Germans were shot down in each encounter, it was reported, and in the second at least 12 German airmen jumped in parachutes. One of the raiders in the second battle was shot down by anti-aircraft fire, the others by fighter planes.

In a prelude to the larger battle, British planes intercepted some of the raiders off the coast but others got through to make attack after attack on the balloons. The enemy succeeded in destroying only one balloon, however, it was reported.

British and German fighters were dog fighting for nearly half an hour in one clash, and the rattle of machine guns was audible along the coast.

Witnesses reported seeing three German planes crash at sea and two on land.

Remaining German planes, they said, broke off the fight and sped out over the channel.

A new wave of German planes attacked. Four of them reached the balloon barrage and one of the balloons burst into flame. Anti-aircraft blazed and British fighter planes darted out to sea in pursuit of the Germans.

Blazing anti-aircraft guns drove back successive waves of German bomber fleets from the northeast coast as the Nazi air force steadily intensified its attacks and extended its operations to northern Ireland.

British Spitfire fighters shot down one Junkers-87 off the northeast coast, to start the day's bag after hours of savage fighting yesterday in which, it was asserted, the Germans lost 60 of 400 attacking planes, against 26 British planes.

It was indicated that the anti-aircraft gun fire which drove the Germans back from the northeast coast to start today's fight was unusually heavy. German planes penetrated the coastal defense to drop incendiary bombs at the start of the fight, and they started several fires which were put out quickly. But gunfire became so heavy that the Germans made off and following waves were unable to get through. Some planes, it was reported, dropped their bomb loads into the sea apparently to get away from pursuing Spitfires.

At least one German plane flew over northern Ireland during the early morning hours and several were reported along the coast. An explosion, believed to have been from bombs dropped at sea, shook coastal points and was heard for 20 miles.

German planes raided over Wales, the Midlands and southeast and southwest England during the night. In southwest England bombs fell at the entrance to a playground air raid shelter, wounding two of the seven occupants.

Yesterday's bag brought the total of German planes destroyed within four days of intensified attacks to 171, and the number shot down since mass raids were started June 18 to 387, according to official figures.

The air ministry estimated that some 100 German airplanes engaged in yesterday's big attacks, centering at Portland naval base, Dover and a convoy off the east coast.

Heading For Big Time At Volunteer's Picnic

Here are a part of the 300-odd children of families on relief and WPA rolls who were guests at North Lake park Saturday at the annual picnic given by the Volunteers of America. Transported to the park by truck and taxicab, use of which was donated, the children had a picnic dinner, played games, ran races and generally put in a big day. Ralph T. White, superintendent of the Volunteers, said there were twice as many youngsters at this year's picnic as attended the event last year.

CONTACT: Rome Says Fascists Battle Defenders Of Berbera

(By Associated Press)

ROME—Italian troops advancing in British Somaliland have established contact with the main British forces defending the capital and chief port of Berbera, the high command announced today. It was presumed that three Italian columns which previously had occupied the port of Zeila, the town of Hargeisa and Aduelna and the Karrin and Godajere passes finally had engaged in battle with troops holding the main British position.

But the high command did not issue any word that fighting between the two forces actually was in progress.

(The British last night announced the Italians had not yet made contact with their main force.)

Authoritative sources said the capture of the two Somaliland passes meant that the Italian forces had safely left the desert wastes behind and were attacking the British on the sea side of the slopes.

REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE

CAIRO —(AP)— Reinforcements newly arrived from far-flung parts of the British empire were reported today digging in around the important seaport of Berbera on the Gulf of Aden for a stand against Italian columns advancing across burning Somaliland wastes under harassing aerial attacks.

Arrival of the reinforcements was disclosed by British officials in denying Italian claims that Somaliland virtually had been cut off from overseas help.

Convoys laden with troops and munitions are steaming regularly through the Red Sea, the British said, unchallenged by Italian naval forces.

ROME LASHES GREEKS

ROME—(AP)—An authoritative Fascist source indicated today there would be serious international consequences as a result of the reported beheading of an obscure Albanian minority leader by Greek border raiders.

This source said Italy probably would protest to the Greek government. He said the "ferocity" of the reported killing had provoked indignation in Italy as well as Albania.

"Whatever touches Albania touches Italy," this high Fascist said. Albania was invaded and annexed by Italy April 9, 1939.

He said Italians would remain calm but were "enormously irritated" by the incident, reported yesterday by the official Italian news agency, Stefani, in a dispatch from Tirana, capital of Albania.

NO LIFTING OF FOOD BLOCKADE

Relief for Starving Europe Would Be Rejected, Say British Spokesmen.

Germany in an effort to supply food to "18,000,000 persons facing starvation." He reiterated his appeal at Colorado Springs yesterday.)

The British view as stated by authoritative quarters, is that such privations which may develop on the continent could be remedied if Germany wished to distribute the available stocks of the conquered countries. Moreover, it was said, even if it were possible to assure that food contributions would be consumed exclusively by the victims of German invasion such stocks inevitably would increase Germany's capacity for waging war by releasing a corresponding quantity of domestically produced food for the use of the Germans.

KIWANIANS TO MEET AT FARM

They'll Have Chicken Dinner Thursday Evening.

Instead of the regular noon meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel the Kiwanis club will journey to the John Hattery farm Olivesburg road for a chicken supper Thursday at 6 p. m.

A program of horseshoes baseball and hiking has been arranged for the afternoon by C. S. Fernyak, secretary.

The Hattery farm is about eight miles out of Mansfield on the Olivesburg road, past the Reformatory. Signs will be placed along the road to direct members to the farm.

NORWALK OFFICE HAS 'OPEN HOUSE'

New District Conservation Headquarters Open To Public.

Headquarters office of conservation district No. 2, Norwalk will be open for public inspection from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. Wednesday, C. F. Blackman, conservation supervisor of the district, announced today.

All phases of conservation activities in the district of which Richland county is a part, will be handled through the new Norwalk office.

This set-up is part of the "fifteen-point program" inaugurated by the state conservation commission and will give opportunity for closer coordination of activities, Blackman said.

Mansfield; a brother, Herbert, Mansfield; three sisters, Mrs. Charles Schlack of Bellville, Mrs. Charles Lehnhart of Mansfield, and Mrs. Charles Schrack, jr., of Lucas, and a grandfather, T. A. Harbaugh, Mansfield.

Miss Mildred Wolfe, 485 Bowman street, and Archie Sutter, 548 Springmill street were treated at General hospital for body cuts and bruises after a car driven by Miss Wolfe struck a telephone pole along route 39 near the Lumbermens Insurance building at 2 a. m. today. Neither was hurt seriously.

Richard Ross, 15, of R. D. 5, received arm and back injuries Sunday afternoon when a car driven by Jacob M. Etzwiler, 96 Park avenue east, struck the horse young Ross was riding. The accident occurred on route 30, three miles east of Mansfield. State highway patrolmen said the horse apparently was frightened by the car and jumped into its path.

Charles Parrish, 36, of 315 North Diamond street, was treated at General hospital for a deep head cut Saturday night after the car in which he was riding with Archie Dye, 30, of Polk collided with another on route 30 east of Mansfield. Dye, who was on parole from the Mansfield reformatory, was driving while intoxicated.

Thomas Wells, 67, of Nova was seriously injured Sunday afternoon in an accident involving three cars on route 224 at the New Haven intersection near Willard. Wells, suffering from chest, knee, and arm injuries, is in Willard Municipal hospital. Two Shelby youths who refused to identify themselves, injured in the same crash, are also in the hospital. Seven persons were riding in the three cars, state patrolmen said.

Injured in accidents in the Bucyrus area were Glen Cox, 54, Bucyrus, struck by a car driven by Donald E. Mason of Bucyrus, and Robert Zachman and his mother of Marion, who suffered head injuries when Zachman swerved his car off route 4 north of Bucyrus to avoid colliding with another car. None of them were believed hurt seriously.

Mrs. F. W. James, her son, David, 14, of Evanston, Ill., and Miss Florence Gebert of Milladore, Wis., were taken to Crestline Emergency hospital for treatment following a traffic accident about 10 a. m. Sunday at the intersection of routes 30 N. and 151 west of Crestline. They were riding with F. W. James, husband and father of two of the three who were hurt. The James car collided with one driven by L. A. Dismore of Columbus. The James family and Miss Gebert were enroute home from the New York World's fair.

Samaritan Role Proves Costly, His $96 Missing

Playing the Good Samaritan for a hungry transient he met Saturday night in Central park cost William Brokaw, R. D. 2, Mansfield, the $96 he collected for corn he sold in Mansfield Saturday, Brokaw told police.

Meeting a man in the park about 5 p. m., Brokaw said he took him to a cafe and bought him a meal and some drinks. After that they went to a North Main street tailor shop to have the transient's trousers repaired.

Brokaw said he couldn't remember much after that, but police found him late last night at East Luther place back of a coal yard. His money was gone.

English Told Air Raids Mean 'Battle of Britain' Started

LONDON — (INS) — Nazi Germany's new air raids on England mean that the battle of Britain has begun, the London Evening Standard said today.

"The threat is as solid as it was to France in May when the rumble of tanks echoed in the woods of the Ardennes," the paper said.

MANSFIELD SOAP BOX CHAMPION IN FIRST HEAT LOSS

Luck Charm Fails, But Jack Makes Real Race of It Right to Finish.

pion John Porter, North Platte, Neb, won fifth and sixth place was taken by Ivan Ruick, jr, of Kansas City

In the international event, the All-American champion defeated Teddy Stewart of Colon, Panama, and Donald McGowan of Bellville, Ont., Canada to win the Soap Box Derby title of the world

Young Fisher was awarded a $2,000 four-year university scholarship as his prize. He announced proudly that he would attend the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

But to get back to Jack

It was exactly 3 p m by the huge clock on the bridge over the finish line at Derby Downs when Jack, young Naser and Babcock, the Rochester champion, were lined up in their sleek little cars on the starting ramp

All three got off quickly as Starter Harry Hartz, who only four days ago had flagged the Mansfield boy champion on the Ashland road course, dropped the green flag and the starting chocks dropped away from in front of their racers

Jack, who had drawn the center lane on the concrete course, rolled down the 16 percent grade slightly in the lead At the half way mark he was out in front by about three car-lengths But as the trim little roadsters shot past the three-quarter pole, Naser's cream motorless carriage began slicing the distance between young Thompson's car

It looked almost like a photo finish as Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis speedway champion whipped down the checkered flag, but the judges declared Naser the winner

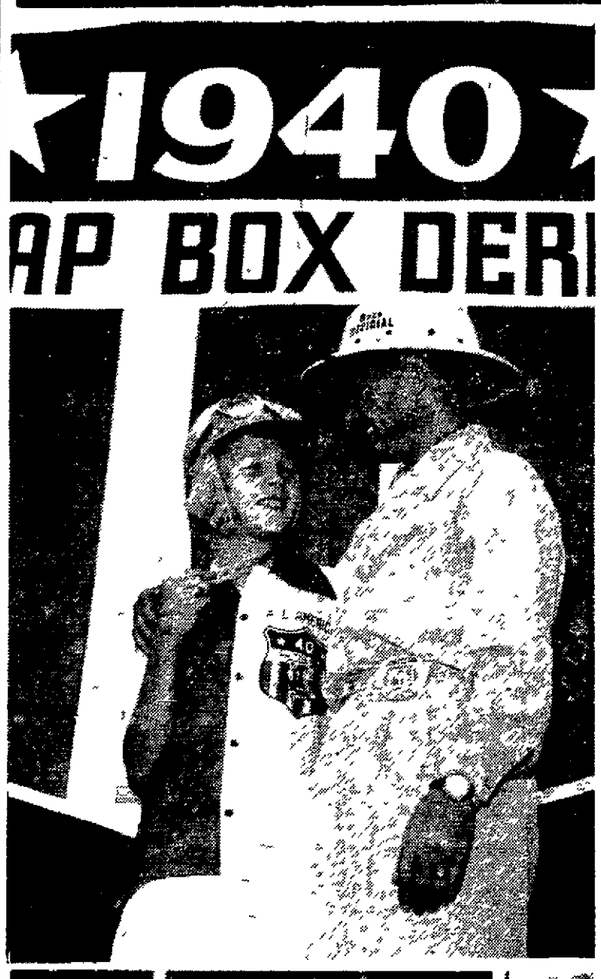
"I did the best I could," Jack declared later as he watched the finish of the race from the stands along with some 50,000 other persons. "It was just a better car that beat me, that's all," he said.

Jacks all-expense trip to the Akron Derby as a guest of The News-Journal was climaxed last night at the banquet of champions at the Akron armory during which each of the boys to enter the finals was awarded a gold wrist watch and racing diplomas

The dinner at which M E Coyle presented huge trophies to the winners wound up two days of excitement for Jack during which he was feted along with 129 other champions.

They were taken to movies, had their own club rooms at the Mayflower hotel, where he stayed in a room with Donald Taylor of Martins Ferry, and Dick Huling of Marietta

Deciding Race, Other Soap Box Derby Shots



Here are some pictures of the All-American Soap Box Derby taken at Derby Downs at Akron yesterday. The top photo taken from the bridge across the finish line shows the final heat, with young Tommy Fisher, the Detroit entry skimming across the tape a car length ahead of Robert Londeree Charleston, W. Va., car No 25 on the left, who took second place, and the Akron entry, George Smith in the center, who placed third in effect five years Any additional registration, Sheppard said would require new action by congress

Under the bill as approved by the military committee, only men from 21 through 30 would have to register. Senator Burke (D-Neb) however, has offered an amendment to increase bracket from 21 through 44

Barkley announced that he would support Burke's amendment, but Senator Minton of Indiana, the assistant Democratic leader, enlisted among its opponents.

Senate debate, resuming this afternoon, is expected to last about 10 days.

The house military committee will reopen its hearings on conscription tomorrow. On Wednesday, Chairman May (D-Ky) said the committee would hear Secretary Knox of the navy, called at the request of some Republicans who wanted to question his statement on taking office that a land force of 300,000 men was adequate.

May said that four other witnesses whom the committee had decided to hear at the same time could not come They are former Secretary of War Woodring former Assistant Secretary Louis Johnson, Gen John J. Pershing and Gen. Hugh Johnson.

House leaders decided to sidetrack routine business at a moment's notice this week to expedite passage of National Guard and excess profits tax legislation.

Anxious to catch up with the senate, they hope to debate by Wednesday the bill to authorize President Roosevelt to order the Guard and reserve army units into a year's active service

Fiscal experts have promised that by Thursday they will have ready the excess profits tax legislation, intended to raise $300,000,000 the first year.

Many members predicted that the National Guard bill would be approved quickly. They said that the debate would center largely on a debt moratorium for men who might be called to duty.

THE NEWS THAT'S TOO BIG FOR THE BILLBOARDS!

This month—on billboards throughout this territory—the Gulf poster below is on display. Because the news it tells is important to all motorists, we have taken this opportunity to give you the full facts.

ONE GLANCE AT THIS POSTER has probably told you that both Good Gulf and Gulf No-Nox gasolines have been stepped up. But what the billboard couldn't explain is that this is not a symbolic picture but an accurately drawn graph!

This chart shows you the relative boosts in anti-knock value—shows by direct comparison, how much these two great fuels have been improved. What's more, these improvements are not the kind that show up only in scientific laboratory tests. They're step ups that can make a real difference in the performance of your motor!

The step up in regular-priced Good Gulf gives it an extra performance "plus." The improvement in Gulf No-Nox—which was already knockproof under all normal operating conditions—makes it tower above its old remarkable high. NO REGULAR GASOLINE—NOT ONE—CAN COMPARE WITH GULF NO-NOX!

Introduce your car to one of these stepped-up fuels today! They're available at the Good Gulf dealer's in your neighborhood.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, AUGUST 12, 1940.

A world series between Cleveland and Cincinnati will be the first all-Ohio series in history—if and when.

Maybe those English refugee children can explain how their parents produce such well-behaved boys and girls without spanking them.

Change In Population Trends

THE 1940 census has resulted in a number of shifts in the list of the 25 biggest cities of the country. Most of the cities in that list ten years ago are still there, but some are in different positions.

The first ten hold their 1930 order, although several have had population losses. Houston, Texas, which was twenty-sixth in line ten years ago has made the amazing climb into twenty-first place. Washington, D. C., which was fourteenth in 1930 is now in eleventh place.

These changes are interesting and study of them reveals much about urban and suburban trends of recent years. The intense rivalry among cities for high place on population lists seems to have diminished. People are beginning to realize that a city might well be famous for something more than number of inhabitants. Fine parks, good schools, honest city government, health, and similar goals are becoming recognized as more worthy of attainment.

Problem of Nomadic Workers

THERE is more hope for American migratory workers when congress turns to serious consideration of their problems. If there is a solution, it must obviously be national or interstate, because any state by itself is powerless to change conditions which make workers wander with the seasons.

"We have laws to cover the interstate movement of steel, rubber, and all the commodities that feed our national economic life," says Representative John H. Tolan of California, "but we have no laws to cover the interstate movement of human beings. And yet we are not merely citizens of New York or New Jersey but of all the 48 states. The rights of citizenship should be protected."

All the basic rights of people as human beings should be protected. When the committee has heard from the wandering job-seekers themselves, and from the experts who are clarifying the social and economic problems involved, it may be possible to find better ways of harvesting the crops involved, and to settle most of the wandering workers in permanent communities.

Honduras Holds Surprises

AN EXPEDITION just returned from Honduras reports great bounties of nature in that somewhat unfriendly land. The expedition, with Theodore A. Morde and Laurence Brown as leaders, under the auspices of the Museum of the American Indian, went to study Indian customs, and brought back much matter of interest along its chosen line. It discovered many objects of a civilization of about the same period as that of the Mayas.

Besides findings of purely scientific interest, however, the expedition found much fertile farm land, plain areas which could be used for air bases, and deposits of silver, platinum and gold. They found evidence, also, of oil-bearing land.

Heat and the dangers and diseases of the tropics must be faced in order to use any of these resources in a commercial way. But the resources are there for those who will have the courage and persistence to go after them.

Restful Vacations for Mothers

OREGON claims to lead the world in a revolutionary plan to give Mother a good rest. This is done in wooded vacation camps operated by Oregon State college. Some folks may consider it a queer and subversive form of collegiate activity, but it seems to be succeeding. There are now 17 of the state's 36 counties participating, and the movement spreads every year.

The camp life costs Mother a dollar a day. Only women are allowed in the sacred groves. And Mother is practically compelled to rest. The only thing she is allowed to do for herself is to make her own bed, and it's against the law to do work for anybody else. Cooks and dishwashers are provided by home economic experts. Husbands and children "can't get within miles." Mother can eat and sleep and do anything she wants to, when she wants to, with but one ironclad reservation. She can't have any home work around.

So the Mothers, singly or in happy groups, walk and loaf and swim and sing around campfires, study Nature, attend craft classes and have a wonderful time. And much benefit, no doubt, is reaped subsequently by others in the family.

Playing Safe On Fishing Trip

THE IDEA has worked out so well in the past that those several Mansfielders who motor up into Canada each summer on a fishing trip are taking the same pledge as heretofore—not to exceed a driving speed of 50 miles an hour, to drink no intoxicants while making the trip and to have no liquor in the car or fishing boat.

Not one member of the party makes claim of being an "abstainer" but all have reached an age, and intelligence, to recognize the danger of speed and the extra hazards that result from use of intoxicants while motoring or when out in a small boat.

"Self preservation" may be the somewhat selfish motive behind such a pledge, but it also has the merit of common sense.

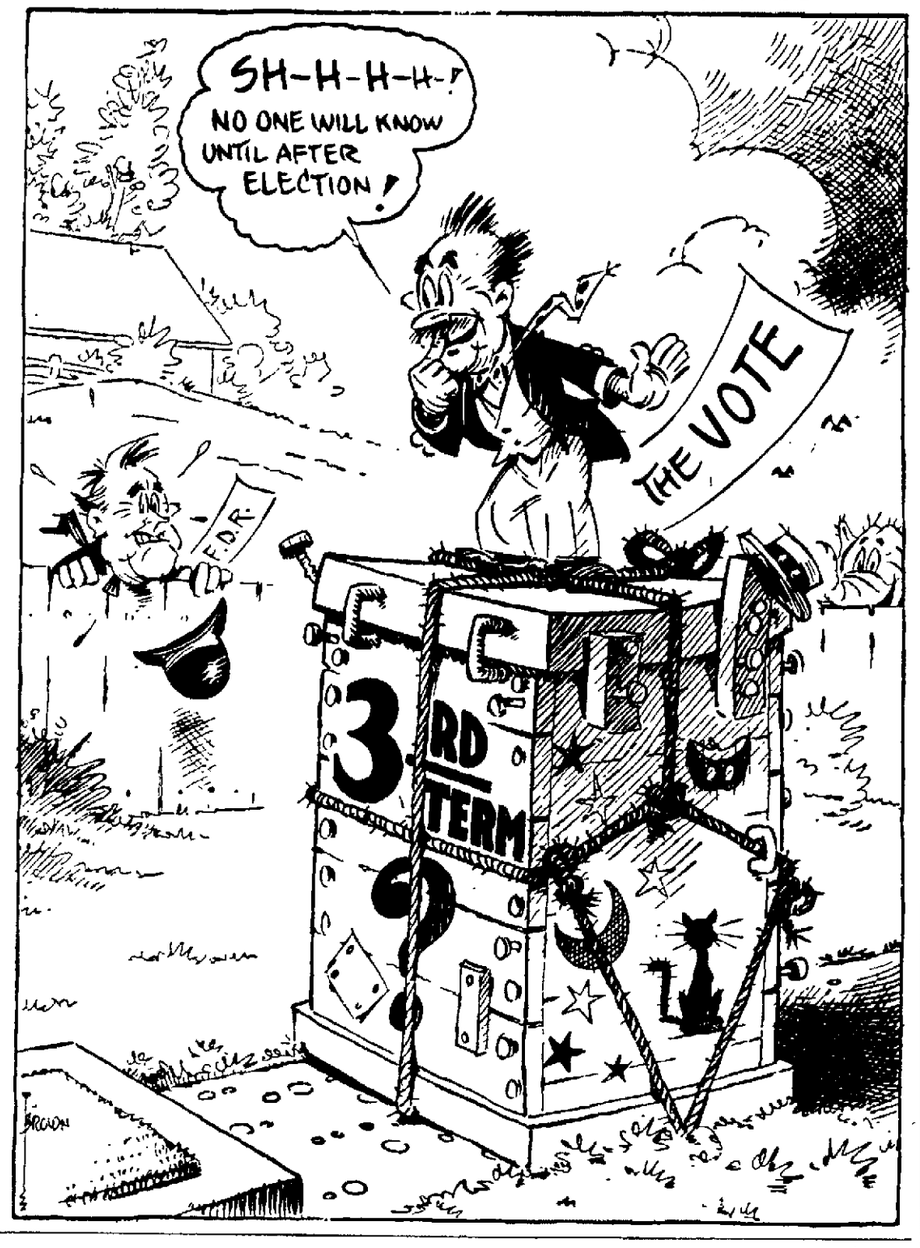
Teaching Aviation By Mail

LATEST offering in correspondence courses is one intended to teach aviation. This is being presented by the National Aeronautics Council, 37 West 47th street, New York City and is planned to cover a year's study at a cost of 25 cents a week.

The course, it is explained, is intended to acquaint students with essential preliminaries to actual flying, rather than to qualify them to take up a plane as soon as they have completed the course. This so-called "ground work instruction" is given by means of lectures, photographs and diagrams transmitted by mail.

Emphasis has heretofore been placed on the importance of proper training in advance of actual flying, but with the increasing interest in aviation there are probably a number of would-be pilots who will welcome an opportunity to learn some of the preliminaries before taking a regular training course.

SOMEONE ELSE HAS A MYSTERIOUS SECRET



GOP Slow In Starting Campaign

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

The Democrats are slow, too, but that isn't so odd. Their national committee has been in a sad state of disorganization, with Chairman Farley just quitting. They doubtless simply have to have a certain amount of time to steam up under the management of Edward J. Flynn, Farley's successor.

WILLKIE

Chairman Joe Martin, at the G. O. P.'s throttle, however, assuredly is thoroughly familiar already with all the political gadgets he has to control.

Yet Republican headquarters announces that it doesn't intend to hit things up to a maximum before Labor Day. Why not until then? Spokesmen answer, "We haven't any money at present." And they act as if they really hadn't. Anyway, they're not spending much thus far. There's considerable good publicity they could have by paying for it, but they won't begin footing the bill.

The Democrats, on their part, can afford to wait awhile, if the G. O. P.'s inactivity permits 'em to do so.

Delay a Democratic Asset.

Delay would seem to be helpful to the Democrats.

While things drag along, there nevertheless is an undercurrent of questioning. "Say, who is Willkie?" For there's no denying that he wasn't a bit well known to the bulk of the country's voters until mighty shortly before his nomination at Philadelphia.

And the standardized Democratic answer to this query is, "Why, he's a big utility man."

Now, indisputably "big public utility men" generally have been unpopular in this country in recent years. If a regular above-board campaign were raging, with Willkie being referred to from the stump as a big public utility man, the charge against him would be vociferously replied to, with the explanation that he's an exception—he's been a GOOD public utility man.

But this sotto voce stuff isn't rebutted at all.

Hence, when the campaign really opens, and the Willkieites break out oratorically in his behalf, there's the risk that a lot of the electorate will have been convinced in advance that Wendell's just of the ordinary public utility stripe and a deal of preliminary mischief to his candidacy will have to be undone, and maybe it can't wholly be UN-done.

The G. O. P. likewise needs to develop a formidable attack on the New Deal's administrative methods.

As to policies, it doesn't differ widely from President Roosevelt's.

It considers him too interfering in foreign affairs, but it agrees with him as to preparedness. It recognizes much good in his socio-economic plans, but it maintains that he's bungled them hopelessly in execution. It implies that he's contemplatively totalitarian.

And it needs to get started, as speedily as possible, in its warfare against his domestic policies and his expenditures—his alleged wastefulness.

Otherwise, if the war goes on an increasing rampage, domestic arguments, unless furiously agitated previously, will be completely drowned out. And the G. O. P. is deferring its agitation until Labor Day.

Health and Diet

First Aid After the Auto Crash.

—By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

THE answer to a first question, "If you are the first to arrive at the scene of an automobile accident and find the driver clear on the ground unable to move on account of pain in the back" what you suspect is a fractured spine.

The answer to a second question, "what will you do for the patient?" is tell everybody who comes up not to move him until the ambulance arrives and then go and telephone for the ambulance, or send someone while you stand guard over well-meaning helpers who want to carry him someplace.

Improper lifting of such an accident victim may result in permanent crippling from injury to the nervous system.

Carelessness in first aid in these circumstances has resulted in thousands of permanently disabled persons in this country. It is estimated that 13,000 spines were fractured in automobile accidents in 1937.

Never Trivial.

With a fractured spine there is always a backache of varying severity. Often it may be no more than a kink in the back. There is usually no deformity and contrary to general belief about a broken back, the victim is often if not usually able to walk after the injury. He frequently minimizes his accident, saying that he has nothing but a muscle cramp. Any back pain after an automobile accident no matter how apparently trivial calls for an X-ray examination.

Small indeed may be the accident which causes spinal fracture. One of the commonest forms is the hitting of a speed breaker or road, so that the occupant is thrown up. The fracture may occur in the bones of the neck from hitting the roof of the car, or in the lower back from coming down on the buttocks. Even sudden stopping may produce such an injury from "whiplash" or "jack-knifing" the body. The driver always innocently thinks of the car going 50 miles an hour when as a matter of much more concern to him, his torso is also going at the same rate of speed.

How to Lift.

In lifting a victim of an automobile accident never lift him face up, with one person holding under the armpits and another hooking under the knees. If he must be lifted before a stretcher arrives, it is safer to lift him hanging face down, by two people, one at the armpits and the other at the knees. Even on the stretcher he should be carried face down.

Backache of a different kind—not due to spinal fracture—may come from poor posture at the wheel. Long drives, on a low seat with the shoulders bent over the wheel and a slump in the lower back will put a strain on the tendons and muscles of the back and result in touring backache.

It will be relieved by exercises—bending and running around and doing a dozen squatting exercises.

A Farmer's Diary

Salt of the Earth

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I TALKED with a farmer's wife who was peeling potatoes — beneath a tree in her back yard. Her fingers flew and the smooth white spuds dropped one by one into a big kettle of water.

"You are paring so many!" I said. "How many folks do you feed around here?"

"Well, there's six of us and a hired man and my brother's three children who are visiting for a couple weeks, while their folks are away on a trip. We don't make company of them, but they have to eat, and it all means work. If 'twasn't that I remember how an aunt of mine used to entertain me, I might discourage 'em from comin'."

"Cookin' for company's not much different from just cookin'," she went on. "We have garden truck aplenty, and apples and eggs—and milk—and friers for Sunday. I make the kids do the dishes before they dare do anything else. The laundry work isn't heavy—kids now-a-days don't wear enough clothes to matter."

"You don't feel imposed on when your brother's children come and stay so long?" I asked.

"We was all kids once and the country's the place for all kids in the summer time. When I'm old they'll remember the good times they had. I know I recollect what went on when I was their age better 'n some thing that's happened since. They're nice kids."

"So you think you owe the children a family obligation," I mused. "Don't such obligations become burdensome at times?"

"I know what you mean," she said. "There's give and take in most families — and some are usually willing to do more than their share of the taking, but by and large, blood's thicker'n water."

"I never could see," I said "why because people happened to be born 'kin they should feel obliged to be responsible to and for one another. When kinfolk are incompatible isn't it better that they leave one another alone?"

"I guess so," she admitted. "Bein' blood relations to some folks 'd be ticklish business and nothin' to be proud of." She got up hurriedly. "Excuse me, please. I must get a head of cabbage. I just remembered my brother said he'd stop tonight, and he always likes hot slaw the way mother made it."

"Such women are the salt of the earth," I mused as I watched her go.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Mystery In Who's Backing Lindy; Go-Getter Directing Ellwood Rally

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—There have been two backstage developments regarding the radio broadcasts of Colonel Lindbergh. One is the fact that the men who originally encouraged him to go on the radio, now are backing vigorously away. The other is the still unsolved mystery of those now behind him.

The two men who origially got the flying colonel on the air are Fulton Lewis, enterprising radio newscaster, and William R. Castle, jr., under-secretary of state during the Hoover administration. Castle now denies emphatically that he is having anything to do with recent broadcasts, while Lewis intimates that the farther he keeps away from Lindbergh's microphone the better.

The man who now seems to be close to the flying colonel is Colonel Robert McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, who is violently anti-British and pro-appeasement. Whether or not McCormick inspired Lindbergh's latest speech is not known, but Lindbergh was McCormick's house guest while in Chicago, and also it is interesting to note that the broadcast originated over WGN (World's Greatest Newspaper), is McCormick's radio station.

* * *

Mysterious Col. Smith.

ANOTHER man who has been close to Lindbergh is Colonel Truman Smith, of U. S. Army Intelligence, and the army's chief specialist on Germany.

Colonel Smith was stationed at Fort Benning before the advent of Hitler, when some German officers came there for training. He became a great friend of the officers, and as military attache in Berlin several years later, renewed that friendship. In fact he was given amazingly accurate information regarding the German army.

For instance, when Germany moved into Poland last year, Colonel Smith was able to tell the war department the points which the German army would take, and almost the exact hour it would take them. At first, the war department would not believe his information, eventually had to admit its soundness.

Colonel Smith got to know Lindbergh in 1938 when the latter spent much of his time in Berlin, so when Lindbergh now comes to Washington, sometimes for broadcasting, he frequently stays at Smith's house. The colonel was reported to have had a hand in writing some of the broadcasts. This he later denied.

Opinion in the war department is unanimous that Colonel Smith is an extremely able officer, but it is mixed as to whether his admiration of Germany is purely from the military viewpoint or also includes a political viewpoint.

At any rate, reports of Smith's collaboration with Lindbergh, brought to Roosevelt by Justice Felix Frankfurter, caused the president to demand his court martial. General Marshall, however, persuaded him that this would cause bad public reaction, and instead sent Colonel Smith south to the maneuvers. However, he is now back in Washington, was here when Lindbergh gave his last broadcast.

Opposite Lindberghs.

MRS. DWIGHT MORROW, widowed mother-in-law of Colonel Lindbergh, isn't the only member of his family who disagrees with him on his anti-British, pro-appeasement views. The flier's wife, author of the moving "North to the Orient" and "Listen, the Wind," also sees differently from him.

The mother of two small boys and fearful of the limelight, Mrs. Lindbergh has shrunk from a public expression of her strong anti-Nazi beliefs. But personally she feels just as forcefully about them as her gangling husband does about his opposite convictions.

Since he has taken to the public arena as the leading appeasement champion, Mrs. Lindbergh has become even more secluded than before.

One ironic angle to Lindbergh's stand is that it is bringing him effusive encomiums from a unique quarter. When he sneered at Russia's air strength in 1938, Communists couldn't find language acid enough to blast him. Now, he is their great hero.

* * *

Lasser No WPAer.

IN AN EFFORT to prevent David Lasser, former president of the Workers Alliance who quit because of Red domination, from organizing a new union of unemployed, Communists are spreading the report that he has a job under WPA Administrator Harrington. This is completely false. Lasser has never worked for WPA.

Hoosier GOP Maestro.

THE producer and stage manager of the Wendell Willkie acceptance ceremonies at Elwood, Ind., is the same man who conceived, financed and directed the famous GOP grassroots rally in the spring of 1938.

Between him and the GOP standard bearer there are a number of bonds of affinity. Like Willkie, Capehart was born in the Hoosier state, made his money in New York, owns an Indiana farm, used to be a Democrat, and is a newcomer in the political arena.

Also, for a brief moment, Capehart was a presidential candidate. After so generously opening his ample pocketbook to job-hungry Republicans in 1938, the boys decided to reward him by making him Indiana's favorite son hopeful. He was flattered, but after wise and earnest consideration declined the high honor.

Capehart's cornfield meeting in southern Indiana was something new in politics. It attracted national attention and was a big success.

He is maestroing the Elwood show with the same care and dash that he lavished on his grassroots rally. Capehart has scattered local committees all over the scenery.

When some of the local bigwigs gloomily predicted serious parking difficulties, Capehart gave two quick puffs on his long fat cigar, surveyed the area, and then observed, "See those corn fields over there? Get hold of the farmers who own them, buy the crops and level off the fields. That'll solve your parking problem."

Later, entertaining some dusty reporters, Capehart took them to a local tavern. Surveying the establishment, he snapped, "Who owns this place?"

A kindly faced woman meekly admitted possession.

"Lady," said Capehart, "you're running this all wrong. Move your steam table to the back room. Put up a couple of boards to lengthen your bar. Take all the liquor off the shelves but two brands of whisky. They won't waste time then trying to decide what they want.

"The point is, lady, get 'em in and get 'em out, fast. It's volume you are after."

Merry-Go-Round.

WHEN National Youth officials here ask girl applicants what they hope to be doing for a living ten years hence, 10 per cent say, "wife and mother"; 90 per cent say, "government clerk." . . . Hearing that Japanese Ambassador Horinouchi was to leave Washington, another diplomat remarked, "He didn't have enough hair on his teeth," meaning he was not tough enough to suit the new regime in Tokyo. . . . Even women's wear workers are wrought up over conscription. In the Women's Wear Daily, Samuel J. Goldstein announces he will guarantee the earnings of all conscripted employes.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Armor-plated and triple armed, the United States coast guard cutter Northland is going to Greenland!

Getting any inside information on what is going on in any national defense work these days is like trying to pull jaw teeth with eyebrow tweezers.

Over at the coast guard offices, if you ask them about it, they just look blank. Or if one of the boys is in good humor, he might tell you he never heard of the Northland, but if present plans aren't changed and quickly, the famous old west coast cutter will soon cleave down past the Statue of Liberty, dip through the Narrows, and rounding Montauk light, set a course northeast for Greenland's icy mountains.

The story was rumored recently when the Northland left the west coast, but coast guard officials denied it. In the Brooklyn navy yard, even now, the hammers are ringing and welding torches blazing as the deck of the Northland is armor plated and her deck complement is increased to three guns.

Just what is the purpose of the Northland's cruise to Greenland must for the moment remain a bit obscure. Piecing known parts of the puzzle together, it is safe to conjecture that the Northland is off on a scouting or observation cruise—a sort of detective of the Greenland seaways.

It is something of a known secret that the United States has a radio station in Greenland, presumably controlled either by the army or navy. It is considered likely that the orders of the Northland will include contact with operators there and probably a survey of the southern coast of Greenland from the standpoint of western hemisphere defense.

* * *

Famous Among Cutters.

THE Greenland junket will be just another leaf in the log of one of the most famous of the U. S. coast guard cutters.

For some summers, the Northland has been in the Bering sea patrol. Following the ice floes north in the spring along the coast of Alaska, the boat would cut west along the Aleutians and visit the ports of those sparsely populated stepping stones to within hailing distance of Russia.

It has sometimes been called "the Eskimo marrying boat," and again "the law west of Seward."

The reason is that these islands, with their tiny Eskimo communities, are isolated throughout the year and have no other contact with the outside world than the annual cruises of the coast guard.

The captain of the Northland (or of whatever cutter might be making the cruise now) thus became, ex-officio, the only justice of the peace ever to visit the islands. And it became his duty to bless with legal matrimony all those couples who, by tribal custom, had united in marriage during the winter. It wasn't unheard of for the captain to marry couples who had, as witnesses, off-spring a few months old.

The Northland also carried a doctor and dentist and the boat tied up for days at these little Eskimo villages while the natives came aboard for examinations and treatment.

* * *

Anybody's Business.

WHAT the Northland will carry to Greenland is anybody's guess, for its crew and cargo have been given no publicity, but not even the Bering Sea patrol, as strange as it is, can compare with this trip. The coast guard is primarily what its name implies, a coastal patrol. With the exception of the recently established weather observation patrols in the Atlantic and iceberg patrols in the North Atlantic, the coast guard seldom operates far from shore.

The Greenland cruise isn't unprecedented, but it will be unusual enough to make headlines in the annals of U. S. coast guard.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Thursday, August 12, 1920.

Five hundred new all-steel lockers had been installed at Y. M. C. A. and were in readiness for use.

16 DRIVERS ARE CITED BY STATE PATROL, POLICE

13 Appear in Court Today, 3 Lose Licenses; One Gets 120 Days in Jail.

State highway patrolmen and city police, continuing their drive against traffic violators, arrested 16 drivers over the week-end, two of them on charges of operating their automobiles while under the influence of alcohol and the others on lesser charges.

Of the 13 appearing in municipal court this morning, three lost their driving rights. One forfeited bond and cases of the other two were continued.

Archie Dye, R. D 1, Polk, who pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol was sentenced to 120 days in the county jail.

Recently paroled from the Ohio State reformatory, Dye was arrested by state highway patrolmen early Sunday following an accident on U. S. route 30, east of Mansfield.

Marion McFadden, 149 North Main street, lost his driving rights for a year and was fined $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a similar charge.

Orie A. Rush, 20, R. D. 3, Mansfield, lost his operator's license for four months and was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of careless and reckless driving.

Police said they arrested him on Surrey road after he drove over the Pennsylvania roalroad crossing on North Main street at 49 miles an hour while the flasher lights were operating.

Arrested for unsafe driving were Fred Sheets, R. D. 2, Mansfield; Jack Wood, 190 East Fourth street; William Naylor, Mansfield, and Stanley Kozak, Akron, all of whom pleaded guilty and were fined $10 and costs each.

Fined $10 and costs for speeding was George Connant, rear 29 Helen avenue.

Pleading guilty to a charge of passing another automobile on the right side, Earl H Law, Cleveland, and Ralph B. Messner, Akron, were fined $10 and costs each

William Griffon, Mansfield, pleaded guilty to operating his automobile with insufficent lights and was fined $5 and Ernest Faught, 582 South Main street, was fined $10 for driving with insufficient brakes.

Ralph Marker, 320 East Second street, pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to stop when driving onto route 13 from the Possum Run road and was fined $5.

Eugene Robinson, Cleveland, forfeited a $25 bond when he failed to appear to answer charges of unsafe driving filed against him by highway patrolmen.

Martin G. Hopp, 27 Sheridan avenue, charged with unsafe driving, will be arraigned Aug. 14, and Arnold J. Rose, Cleveland, charged with speeding on U. S route 42, is scheduled to appear in court Aug. 17.

PARTY HONORS BRIDE-ELECT

CRESTLINE — The last in the series of pre-nuptial parties given for Miss Martha Marquart whose marriage to Paul Stetson Ivory of Boston, Mass., will be an event of this Wednesday, was given at the home of Mrs. Robert Lessener, North Seltzer street, Saturday evening.

Associate hostesses were Mrs. Robert Marquart of Bucyrus and Mrs. Al Williams.

Several prizes were awarded in playing of bingo and the prize won by Mrs. John Berger, jr., for bridge games were turned over to the bride-elect, who also received a shower of gifts for her kitchen from the group.

SECURITY PAYS

Three Billion Dollars Paid Out In Five Years.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government's social security program, five years old this week, has distributed $3,000,000,000 to the nation's aged and unemployed workers, and to widows, orphans and the blind.

In advance of its anniversary Wednesday, the social security board summarized its vast operations to show that some 50,000,000 workers had been enrolled in the program since President Roosevelt signed the act in 1935.

ALIENS HELD

Japs Continue Arrests Of Foreign Residents.

TOKYO —(AP)— Nineteen foreigners have been arrested at Dairen charged with anti-Japanese propaganda and possession of short-wave radios, a Domei (Japanese news agency) dispatch reported today. Names and nationalities were not disclosed.

Numerous foreigners have been arrested in Korea and Japan proper, mostly British, in a Japanese campaign against alleged espionage.

OLD EMPLOYES OF FIRM MEET

Shelby Lamp Works Company Reunion Held at Shelby Seltzer Park.

SHELBY—More than 200 former employes of the old Lamp Works company here gathered in Seltzer park Sunday for their fourth annual reunion.

During the business session held following a picnic dinner, Mrs. Irene Sutter was elected president of next year's reunion. Other officers chosen for the next affair were Miss Lettie Yetzer, vice president; Mrs. B. V. Hollenbaugh, secretary; and Mrs. Myrtle Post, treasurer.

The former employes had their families as guests for the outing yesterday. Social conversation was featured during the afternoon by the former employes, many who had not seen each other since the last reunion held in the summer of 1939 at the park.

Although the Lamp Works moved to join the Nela Park company in Cleveland some 25 years ago, the reunions were not started until 1927. That year a group of the former employes met at the home of Mrs. Gail Ewalt in this city.. Only a handful of former employes were present for this outing, but interested continued to grow until now several hundred attended the affair.

Former employes were present yesterday from Mansfield, Cleveland, Crestline, Galion, Leipsic, Fostoria, Lexington, Warren, Nevada, and Detroit Mich.

Officers for the reunion included Mrs. Francis Van Wagner, president; Francis Van Wagner, assistant; Mrs. Wooley Wilkinson, vice president; Mrs. Hollenbaugh, secretary, and Mrs. Post, treasurer. Other former employes of the plant assisted this group by working on various committees.

Plans were made to hold a reunion in 1941 the second Monday in August at Seltzer park again. Committees for next year's outing will be appointed later by the newly elected officials.

Family Gathers to Pay Honor To Mrs. Carl on Anniversary

JEROMESVILLE—Head of a family circle of 49 direct descendents, Mrs Caroline Carl, well known Jeromesville woman, and a former resident of Mansfield, observed her 84th birthday anniversary at her home here Saturday.

Celebrating the occasion Mrs. Carl was honor guest at a family picnic Sunday at the home of a son, Walter Carl, near Jeromesville, where the birthday anniversary of a granddaughter, Mrs. Caroline Atterholt, was also commemorated.

Born four miles south of Loudonville in Holmes county on Aug. 10, 1856, Mrs. Carl was one of the six children of Michael and Catherine Smith who emigrated from Alsace-Lorraine to Ohio. She alone survives of the three brothers and three sisters.

Following her marriage to Simon P. Carl, a native of Wayne county, which occurred on March 5, 1874, the family home was located four miles north of Mansfield on the Olivesburg road for nearly 40 years. For about ten years of that time Mr. and Mrs. Carl operated a dairy farm.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Carl resided in Mansfield until the former's death. For the past 14 years Mrs. Carl has made her home in Jeromesville.

Reminiscing she remembers attending the ceremonies at the time of the laying of the cornerstone of the Ohio State Reformatory.

She also recalls that when they delivered milk in Mansfield their customers had to provide their own containers.

As a quilt maker Mrs. Carl has established a record that would be difficult to better. She made her first quilt at the age of eight, and to date has completed more than a hundred of many different designs.

Aside from making them for church fairs, charity and similar affairs, Mrs. Carl has pieced quilts for each of her children, her grandchildren and her great-grandchildren.

Just a few weeks ago she completed a nursery quilt for little Louise Ellen, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Culler, of near Lucas, her newest great-grandchild.

Aside from the effects of injuries sustained when she broke her hip in a fall on the ice more than 20 years ago, Mrs. Carl enjoys excellent health and maintains her own home next door to that of a son in Jeromesville.

An active member of Trinity Lutheran church in Jeromesville, Mrs. Carl is also associated with its various women's organizations. While living in or near Mansfield she was a member of the First Lutheran church.

Mrs. Carl has four sons, Clarence, Walter and Harlan, all residing in or near Jeromesville, and Roy of Barberton; and three daughters, Mrs. Ella Mottayaw, of Loudonville; Mrs. Stella Culler, of near Lucas, and Mrs. Roy Blizzard of Mansfield.

The residences of her 30 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren are scattered over the United States from ocean to ocean.

CLASS STAGES CAMPING TRIP

Fourth Annual Outing Held By Shelby Church Group Over Week-End.

SHELBY—Fourth annual camping trip of Young Men's class of First Methodist church was held over the week-end at Mohican State park southeast of Mansfield.

A traditional outing now with the class, the camp trips were started in 1936 when the young men went to the same place for an over-night trip. The class has been to Mohican State park three times. Last year they went to Hocking County State parks in southern Ohio for their trip.

Thirteen young men went on the trip Saturday. Sunday school lessons were taught at the camp Sunday morning by the teacher, Willard Boyles. In charge of the camp cooking was William Geary, class president; Dawson Swisher and Boyles. The class slept in pup tents Saturday night.

BELIEVE NAZI RAIDS AIM AT SKIES CONTROL

Destruction of Royal Air Force Pointed Out as Primary Objective.

By DEVON FRANCIS
(AP Aviation Editor)

NEW YORK—Germany evidently has launched in earnest a campaign to wear down or soften British resistance to bombing attacks, and one of its primary objects is to destroy the Royal Air Force.

One of the credos of Nazi air war is establishment of definite air superiority before any other moves in a closely-integrated attack are made.

Field Marshal Goering's air force had superiority in Poland in the beginning. It quickly assured itself superiority in Norway by seizing most of the available airdromes against their use by an enemy not equipped with long-range fighter planes.

It enjoyed superiority in the attack through the low countries, and only sacrificed it on a local front during the Dunkirk evacuation.

In the constant hammering which the Germans are delivering the British from the air, one fact must be remembered—they have been prepared since the start of the war to sacrifice airmen and planes. They have produced both in tremendous volume.

The air attack on Britain is akin to the storming of a fort by successive waves of infantrymen who are considered expendable. Shooting down 60 or 100 or 300 enemy planes means little to British defense in terms of destroying German equipment and discouraging the attack.

How well equipped the British are to withstand those wearing-down air attacks is not known. It is known, however, that they were hard-pressed in the air during the battle of Flanders. British pilots, dispatches said, flew and fought to the point of exhaustion.

DEATH CLAIMS GALION WOMAN

Mrs. Elnora E. Seabrook Dies at Home of Sister In Dayton Friday.

GALION—Funeral services are being held this afternoon at the Robert E. Newton funeral home in Dayton, for the late Mrs. Elnora E Seabrook, native of Galion. Mrs. Seabrook died Friday morning at 10.15 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. M. Clark, 2265 N. Catalpa drive, Dayton.

The deceased was the second daughter of Luther and Lydia Traul and was born in Galion, Sept. 29, 1874. She was a descendant of two pioneer families, the grandparents, David and Susanna Shumaker being first settlers of Galion, and on the father's side, Conrad and Rachel Traul.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Clark of Dayton, and Mrs Leila O. Alford of Tallahassee, Florida, who has been visiting in Dayton, besides two nephews and two nieces. Several relatives live in Galion.

'NO JUSTICE' DECLARES J. P.

Spends Week of Woe As Foe of Evil Forces.

LITITZ, Pa.—(AP)—Justice of the Peace Joseph B. Herr feels he had a right to sing the blues.

In a single week he—

Skinned a shin; burned himself; tried to hoist a porch post and it fell on his foot; accidentally penned himself on his roof when a window shut down and a neighbor had to release him; was stung twice by a wasp and barely escaped a third sting by shedding his trousers.

REUNION HELD

WILLARD—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carpenter attended the Henderson family reunion at Brookside Park at Ashland Thursday, August 8. Edward Henderson of Norwalk was elected president, Joseph Henderson of Dover is secretary and Robert Henderson, historian.

William Henderson of Los Angeles came for the reunion and will visit his brother, sister, and other relatives here. This family, natives of England, came to America many years ago and the annual reunion is for the six brothers and two sisters and their families. One sister and her family remained in England.

JOHN TAPPAN TAKES BRIDE IN NORFOLK

Couple Married Saturday Afternoon To Honeymoon In Cuba Before Going To New Orleans To Reside.

THE marriage of Miss Louise Rochell Brown, daughter of Dr. Hugo C. Brown of Cleveland, and the late Mrs. Louise Wright Brown, to John Hedges Tappan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Tappan, 791 Woodland road, took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the lawn of the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Hunt Land Wright, in Lochhaven, Norfolk, Va. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Sparks W. Melton, D. D., pastor of the Freemason Street Baptist church, in a natural setting of greens.

The bride was escorted by her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a gown of embossed princess satin, fashioned with square neckline, long sleeves and mid-Victorian train. Her veil was of rose point lace trimmed with pearls from her mother's wedding gown, and she carried a shower bouquet of American Pride roses and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Miss Florence Gerstner of Dayton was maid of honor and wore a gown of rose faille taffeta fashioned in the colonial period with three-quarter length sleeves and off-the-shoulder neckline and carried a bouquet of Token roses and blue delphinium.

The bridesmaids were Miss Miriam Tappan, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Audrey McCarty, Drexel Hills, Pa., Miss Elizabeth Jordan, Toledo, Miss Doris Gluntz, Lakewood, and Miss Mary Lee Knight of Norfolk. They wore gowns of faille taffeta in hyacinth blue made like that of the maid of honor and carried bouquets of Briarcliff roses and blue delphinium. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore matching hats of net. Little Miss Anne Young, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Smith, was flower girl and wore a frock of pink and carried a basket of rose petals.

Father Is Best Man.

Mr. Tappan was his son's best man and the ushers were W. Richard Tappan, brother of the bridegroom, Peter A. Craig of Blanchester, Eric Griebling, Kent, and Nicholas Carter Wright, uncle of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony and later Mr. and Mrs Tappan left for a trip to Cuba. They will return to Norfolk later and from here will cruise to their new home in New Orleans, La. The bride traveled in an ensemble of tan Rochell silk with brown accessories.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Hunt Land Wright and a niece of Nicholas Carter Wright of Norfolk. She is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware and Western Reserve university of Cleveland, and is a member of Delta Gamma and Kappa Tau Sigma sororities.

Attending Law School.

Mr. Tappan is a graduate of Kenyon college at Gambier and is now attending Tulane university law school. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and Phi Delta Phi fraternities.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Tappan, parents of the bridegroom; Miss Miriam Tappan, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. W. J. Tappan, Mrs. George Anson and daughter, Miss Shirley Anson, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Richard Tappan of this city; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Platt and Mrs. Elma Suydam, Norwalk; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Griebling, Kent; Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Craig, Blanchester; Miss Florence Gerstner, Dayton; Miss Elizabeth Jordan, Toledo; Miss Audrey McCarthy, Drexel Hills, Pa., and Miss Doris Gluntz, Lakewood.

The former Miss Louise Rochell Brown, who became Mrs. John H. Tappan this week-end.

Informally Speaking...

By MARIANNE

Aug. 12, 1940.

Lucy, dear:

ALTHOUGH the weather man had predicted cloudy and showers for this week, we had a beautiful day yesterday—just right for some outdoor activity. . . . I enjoyed a game of golf, but since you've always been such a water baby, I suppose you went swimming some place or another—and I'll wager the water was fine.

* * * * *

Marianne

If you can possibly get over to our town this week, Lucy, I think you should, because some old friends of yours, Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Johnston and their young daughter, Frances, are going to be here. . . . In fact they were here for a couple days last week, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnston. . . . Rev. Johnston is pastor of the Presbyterian church in Tekamah, Neb. now you know, and he spent the first week of his vacation this month attending the ministers' conference at the McCormick seminary in Chicago. . . . While there, Mrs. Johnston and Frances visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Coyner, in Macomb, Ill. . . . Fact is, the Coyners and Mrs. Johnston's aunt, Mrs. Gingerich, came east with them, and now they've gone to York, Pa. . . . In the meantime, Rev. Johnston and his family have gone to Claymont, Del. to see his brother, Fred, and family. . . . They'll be back here tomorrow or the next day, though, to spend about ten days. . . . Oh yes, and did you know that the elder Johnstons are building a new home on Braeburn road? It will be completed about the middle of September, so they'll move there then from their present home on Vennum avenue.

* * * * *

When it comes to vacations, some folks seem to have all the luck—with the kind that last for weeks and weeks. . . . Take Helen Bayer, for instance, she's just returned home from a seven-weeks' stay in Detroit, Pontiac and Flint, Mich. . . . She's the daughter of Atty. Joseph A. Bayer, as you probably recall. . . . And then there's Lois MacKellar, head librarian at our Public library, who's taking an extended cruise on the Great Lakes during her vacation this month. . . . And a card from Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Appleman reveals that they're spending their three-weeks' vacation on the coast of Maine.

* * * * *

LAKE ERIE shows promise of being a popular place with Mansfielders this week. . . . Mrs. Jack McKnight, Mrs. Joseph Kemp, Marjorie Scott and Doris McKnight have taken a cottage at Mittiwanga as have Mrs. Gerald Bean and her daughter, Miriam.

* * * * *

And speaking of Mittiwanga, quite a few girls in the younger set have just returned from there. . . . They included Glenna Baumberger, Mary Jane Edwards, Ruth Turner, Dorothy Norris, Janet Goldsmith, Virginia Marion, and Kathleen Wilson. . . . Martha Thompson and Mary Graver were their chaperones for the week.

* * * * *

WE'RE all pretty sorry about losing Mr. and Mrs. Dale Steward as residents of our town. . . . They've gone to Berea, where they plan to make their future home, as Mr. Steward has accepted a position as ground school instructor with the Cleveland Flying Service at the Cleveland Municipal airport.

* * * * *

Since I've been telling you about so many folks' vacations in this letter, Lucy, I mustn't forget to tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glover, their daughter, Ruth Mengert, and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mengert, returned only this week-end from a fishing trip in northern Wisconsin. . . . They were at Forest Lake, which is located near Eau Clair.

* * * * *

ANOTHER grand trip is the one Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wallace, their daughter, Sarah Catherine, and Virginia Finefrock are taking now. . . . They're touring through the Dakotas. . . . Next month, Virginia will go to Athens, where she has a fellowship at Ohio university. . . . She's been on the staff of the Akron Y. W. C. A. for the past three years and resigned this summer to go to the university, where she will study for her masters degree in administrative work.

* * * * *

I'M STILL looking for you to pay me that visit, so don't delay too much longer now before you come over, Lucy.

Lovingly,

Marianne

CHANGE TIME.

Rev. E. G. Corwin Performs Service At First Church

Marie McFarland Is Wife of Robert Bigony; Reception At Home.

In a quiet ceremony at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon before the altar of the First Methodist church, Miss Marie McFarland became the bride of Robert Bigony. Rev. E. G. Corwin, pastor of the church, performed the service befire an altar banked with palms. Mrs. Elsie Ireland presided at the church organ, and Earl Adams served as the vocalist.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McFarland, R. D. 4, was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in an afternoon frock of navy blue crepe, with which she wore white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of orchids, and her only jewelry was a gold necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Charles Addlesperger was her sister's only attendant, and she wore a street-length dress of old rose crepe with white accessories. Yellow roses and delphinium formed her shoulder corsage. Arthur Griffith, jr., of Granville, was the best man, while the bride's brothers, Harold and Ralph McFarland, were the ushers.

Mrs. McFarland was attired in a black and white ensemble with a corsage of gardenias for the wedding of her daughter. Mr. Bigony is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Bigony of Kirkersville, and Mrs. Bigony wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and gardenia corsage.

After the wedding, a reception was held at the bride's parents' home for 25 guests. Pink and gold appointments were used on the table, which was centered with a wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Bigony are now taking an eastern motor trip, and upon their return will reside at 169 West First street. For traveling the bride wore a black and white costume.

Mrs. Bigony attended Madison high school, and Mr. Bigony went to the Kirkerville high school. He is now assistant manager of the Kresge Dollar store here. Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Miss Linda Ruth Clark of Columbus, Arthur Griffith of Granville, and Miss Edna Griffith of Newark.

Sisters Fete Bride-Elect Of Chester Bush

Miss Virginia Bush and Mrs. E. E. Costell gave a party for the bride-elect of their brother, Chester Bush, yesterday evening at the Costell home, 26 Shelby avenue. Miss Miriam Blum of Crestline was the guest of honor, and she and Mr. Bush will be married at 8 o'clock Saturday morning before the altar of St. Peter's Catholic church.

The 12 guests present for last evening's party played cootie, and the prize winners were Mrs. Leona Sonner and Miss Marjorie Blum of Crestline. Pastel appointments decorated the luncheon tables at the close of. luncheon tables at the close of the evening.

Miss Blum received a shower of miscellaneous gifts from the guests, and a gift of furniture from the hostesses. She is a graduate of Crestline high school, while Mr. Bush, who attended St. Peter's high school, is employed at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

Smart Slicker

As is apparent in the picture raincoats this year are designed with a great deal of style. The one above is of pastel colored silk and has been waterproofed with a synthetic which also makes it spotproof, stainproof and fire resistant. And the fetching hood is no mean part of its charm.

Reveals Nuptials

Mrs. John Dunajtsik, above, was Miss Eleanore Savene before her marriage. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Savene, 356 West Fourth street, yesterday announced the wedding, which was solemnized in Russell, Ky. on April 1. The couple is residing temporarily at the West Fourth street address.

Miss Cutter, Mr. Shoemaker Entertained At Breakfast

THE date of the wedding of Miss Sanchen Cutter and H. E. Shoemaker was revealed yesterday morning at a breakfast given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. Austin Corey of Cleveland. The couple will be married at 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Aug. 29 before the altar of the First Presbyterian church with Rev. D. N. Roller officiating.

Thirty-four guests attended the party yesterday morning, which was held from 10 until 12 o'clock at the home of Mr. Corey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Corey, 808 Park avenue west. Each of the young women present received a shoulder corsage with the wedding date attached to a ribbon streamer. The breakfast table was decorated with garden flowers, and a shower of towels was presented to the couple.

Miss Cutter, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weston Cutter, 86 Parkwood boulevard, attended Bradford Junior college following her graduation from Mansfield Senior high school.

Mr. Shoemaker is a graduate of Iowa State university. He was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity while attending that school and is now employed at the Ohio Brass company. He is the son of Mrs. Martha A. Shoemaker of Des Moines, Ia.

Family Reunion Held At North Lake Park

Approximately 50 relatives and friends of the Thomas B. and Marilla A. Andrews family gathered for their 12th annual reunion at North Lake park yesterday. Those in attendance were from Columbus, Newark, Mt. Vernon, Shelby and Ashland.

Dinner was served at noon, and during the afternoon the family history was reviewed. Another reunion will be held at the same place on the second Sunday in August next year.

Annual Birthday Picnic Given At Wharton Farm

The 13th annual birthday picnic of the descendants of Elizabeth Brannan and Mary Ellen Wharton was held yesterday in honor of Mrs E. L. Roberts of Shelby, Mrs. Don Owens, Forrest Milligan and Forrest Wharton at the latter's home, six miles east of the city.

Dinner was served at noon, followed by a program on the lawn, which consisted of songs by Liza Jane Norris, Lucille Owens, Mrs. Frank Brannan and Mrs. Elrie Cook, and a reading by Ilene Milligan. Guests were present rfom Mansfield, Johnsville, Greenwich and Shelby.

Observe Anniversary With Afternoon Tea

Rev. and Mrs. Martin Weaver observed their golden wedding anniversary yesterday with a tea at their home in Greenwich. The affair for relatives and friends was held from 2 until 6 o'clock, and the honored couple received many gifts.

The couple's children, Mrs. Glenn Heston, Beethoven street; Mrs. Carl Robart, Birmingham, and Kenneth Weaver of Greenwich planned the affair. Rev. Weaver, who is now retired, served as a Methodist minister for 39 years, and he and his wife have eight grandchildren.

CELEBRATES QUIETLY.

Dorothy Applan, Charles Miller Exchange Vows

Miss Dorothy Applan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Applan, 523 South Diamond street, became the bride of Charles H. Miller of Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday afternoon in a pretty service at the First Presbyterian church in Huron.

The altar of the church was banked with powder blue Queen Anne's lace for the wedding, which was read by Rev. Ensign at 1 o'clock. Preceding the exchange of vows, Mrs. Maxim and Miss Joannie Riggle furnished the nuptial music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of soldier blue crepe with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of gardenias. She was attended by Miss Ethel Heuss, whose brown crepe dress was highlighted with white accessories and a gardenia shoulder corsage.

Mr Miller, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan M. Miller of Pittsburgh, chose his brothers, Morgan M. Miller, jr., and Wade Miller, also of Pittsburgh, to be his ushers, while Ellsworth Turnbull of Fair Oaks, Pa., was the best man. Mrs. Applan was attired in a black and white dress with black accessories, and Mrs. Miller's dress was of gray crepe with red accessories. Both women's corsages were of red roses.

Mrs. Miller, a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school, has been employed at the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, while Mr. Miller, who was graduated from Oliver high school, is a member of Brad Hunt's orchestra. The couple will spend the remainder of the summer at Ruggles Beach on Lake Erie, where the orchestra is playing, and then will go to Pittsburgh to live.

Friends Honor Anna Nanich And Paul Etzwiler

Paul Etzwiler and his bride-elect, Miss Anna Nanich, were honored with a pre-nuptial party Saturday evening at Joseph Bayer's cabin, just off the Woodville road. Miss Elizabeth LeFever, Misses Rose and Betty Dekrell, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dietrich assisted with the affair.

The 18 guests spent a social evening, and at a late hour, a two-course buffet luncheon was served from a table decorated with green and white appointments. The couple received a gift of furniture from the group.

Miss Nanich and Mr. Etzwiler will be married in a closed church service at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Aug. 24 before the altar of St. Mark's Lutheran church. Tomorrow evening the bride-elect's associates at the Tappan Stove company are planning to give a party in her honor.
